

ADDRESS TO THE FACULTY PRESIDENT JOSEPH C. BURKE

AUGUST 31, 1982

plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

This special supplement to WEEKLY was produced at the request of President Burke to meet a demand from faculty and staff to share his remarks with all members of the campus community. It takes the place of the practice in past years of circulating copies of the President's annual "opening-of-the-year" address to individuals via campus mail and expands the audience to include interested students and friends of the College in the community at-large who receive and read this publication regularly.

After reviewing my opening speeches to the faculty during my eight years as president, I decided to introduce two innovations today. First, I hope to be brief and, second, I hope to avoid a fixation on the budget. While brevity is mostly within my control, our budget is another matter. Today, I want to talk less about the quality of our budget and more about the quality of our performance. Though quality and quantity are clearly not unrelated, they are obviously not synonymous. I want to concentrate today on quality issues largely within our control rather than on budget problems that lie mostly beyond our influence.

“Put budget problems in perspective”

Budget problems, like death and taxes, have become inevitable. We can neither evade nor avoid them. We must learn to live with them since it appears that we cannot live without them. The best we can do is to attempt to reduce their impact on the quality of our performance. We need to deal with them without being obsessed or paralyzed by them. One way to view budget problems is to put them in perspective. Though the State University of New York has experienced budget difficulties in the seventies and early eighties, their severity does not compare with the five to ten percent absolute reductions that are occurring in current budgets in Michigan, Ohio, Nevada, Wisconsin, Oregon and many other public systems of higher education. Though the budget prospects for State University of New York and our College will not be as bright as some of us might hope, neither will they be as bleak as many of us fear. Our College and State University will undoubtedly have to grapple in the next few years with budgets that fail to fund inflationary and salary increases; but we are less likely to face absolute cuts. In other words, we must plan for budgets that provide inadequate increases rather than real reductions. The real danger in our budget prospects is a quiet erosion of quality rather than a dramatic decline in the quantity of funding.

The key to a successful future for our College lies in our planning and in our performance. Our success will depend more on the quality of our actions on this campus than on the quantity of the budgets provided from the State Capitol. Our success in the future, as indeed it has in the past, will depend more on what we do as an institution rather than what is done to us, or for us, by external agencies. In any case, it makes sense to concentrate on those issues that we can control directly rather than fighting fruitlessly external forces that we can influence only indirectly.

“Better than many of us thought”

Our past successes in difficult fiscal times support this optimistic vision of our future prospects. The highly favorable evaluation of the College by the Middle States Team shows that the faculty and staff at this College can indeed work wonders in the face of fiscal constraints. The Middle States Team praised us for “overall excellence, steady gains in virtually all areas of activity, and for remarkable endurance and improvement under grim fiscal conditions.” They complimented our teaching faculty on their high academic qualifications and on their strong commitment to teaching and lauded both the quality and diversity of our academic programs. They labeled our institutional research and outcomes studies as models for other institutions of higher education. They lauded the library staff for the quality and variety of their services. They congratulated the staff in Student Affairs for the quality and range of their programs and activities and for working far beyond the requirements of their job descriptions. They applauded the staff of maintenance and operation, and the faculty and students, for the cleanliness and appearance of our buildings and grounds. They commended the College’s efforts in external fund raising. They described the college administration — vice presidents, deans, directors and support staff — as being of “the highest quality.” They noted that “one looks with envy on the College for the effectiveness of governance” and complimented the College Council, the Faculty Senate, and the faculty union for their cooperation and contributions to the remarkable success of the College during difficult times. In all, they lavish compliments on your performance on campus and reserved their strongest criticism for agencies in Albany.

Each of us individually always knew we were good at our specific jobs. The surprise, I suspect, is that the report of the Middle States Team tells us that we are collectively as a College much better than many of us thought and some of us dreamed. Though the Middle States Report praises particular activities and groups, it attributed the outstanding success of the College to a rare community spirit on campus that enables faculty, staff, students and administration to work cooperatively and creatively.

Freshmen Quality Indicators up

Prospective students obviously share this highly favorable impression of the College. At a time when The Chronicle of Higher Education notes a national decline of two percent in applications from new students to college and universities, this College has received for this Fall 9,300 applications — an application rate that equals that for the Fall of 1981 — which all of us perceived as an excellent year for admissions. We accepted 59% of those who applied and 37% of those accepted have paid deposits. We currently have deposits from over 110% of our new student target for this Fall. Even more pleasing than this quantitative success is the improvement in the quality indicators of our new students. The mean high school average of our new freshmen has risen from 84.5% for last fall to 85.7% this fall. Their combined scholastic aptitude score of 970 was 22 points above that of freshmen for last year — and a full 80 points above the national average for college bound students. The mean grade point of our new transfer students also climbed from 2.76 last year to 2.85 this year. Our success in attracting the desired quantity and improved quality of new students in a period of declining enrollments and admission standards in many colleges and universities supports the Middle States Evaluation of the quality of our performance at this College.

Future expectations high

Of course, past and present success can, and should, produce even greater expectations for the future — whatever the external constraints. The Middle States Team notes that the College faces a future with difficult problems, many of them budgetary, but predicts confidently that “the College at Plattsburgh is likely to retain its present impressive strength and to build upon it. . . .” Surely, we can face the future with confidence, for it is unthinkable that we should have less confidence in ourselves than the Middle States Team has shown in us.

Indeed, your responses to the Survey on Institutional Goals conducted for our Self-Study demonstrates that you, the faculty and staff, have much higher standards and expectations than the Middle States Team. After praising the quality of our academic programs and campus services, the team notes with some astonishment that your responses to the Institutional Goals Inventory indicates that on ten goal activities, focusing on the quality of instruction and on the intellectual and personal development of students, you believe that we can, and should, improve substantially.

High standards demanded

The ten goals with the greatest discrepancies between the perceived and preferred level of emphasis are as follows:

- To ensure that all graduating seniors have acquired college-level writing proficiency.
- To instill in students a life-long commitment to learning.
- To hold students to high standards of intellectual performance.
- To ensure that all course offerings have college level substance, quality, and requirements.
- To ensure that evaluation of faculty recognizes excellence in teaching.
- To ensure that students and graduates achieve some levels of reading/writing/math competency.
- To create an institution known widely as an intellectually exciting and stimulating place.
- To maintain a climate of mutual respect and trust among students/professors/administrators.
- To help students develop a sense of self-worth/self-confidence and a capacity for impact on events.
- To help students identify their own personal goals and develop means of achieving them.

Though I share the assessment of the Middle States Team that your self-evaluation was too self-critical, I applaud your commitment to only the highest standards and expectations. I will ask the Vice Presidents and Deans to request that every department and office on campus study each of these ten goals and report by the end of the fall semester on how each group intends to lessen the discrepancy between the perceived and the preferred level of emphasis in each of these ten crucial areas.

It should be noted that these are not the perceptions of the administration nor the goals selected by the administration. They are your perceptions and your goals. The College's future achievement in each of these goal areas will depend mostly on you and your collective efforts with your colleagues at the office and department level. Your responses to the Goals Survey suggest that you believe that the academic departments and college offices are more than just administrative conveniences — that they are more than just collections of individuals, each doing her or his own separate thing. You believe, and so does the administration of this College, that these organizational groupings should be the creative centers that foster the intellectual and personal growth of students, faculty, and staff — that a creative and collective magic should take place in every department and office on a college campus — that synergy should occur so that each department and office collectively becomes much more than the sum total of its individual participants.

Success depends on faculty and staff

The real action on quality in the next few years will not come from Albany nor from the administration but from your departments and offices. You and you alone can ensure that the intellectual and personal growth of each of us in this college community stretches to reach the high standards that you have set not only for others but for yourselves. Success in the future for this College will depend not upon dramatic and drastic campus-wide reorganization or five-year plans. It will depend mostly on you, the faculty and staff, for you are the head and the heart of the College. You must not only instruct but must also inspire all of us in the campus community. These are high standards you have set for yourself, but I know you can achieve them.

The campus as a whole also has some challenges. Many of these challenges, though mentioned in the Middle States Report, have long been identified by you — the faculty and staff. First, as the Middle States Report suggests, it is time for this College to prepare and approve an official statement of its mission and goals. I have begun discussions with the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate as to the appropriate means to get a draft document of mission and goals for campus discussion before the end of this semester and for final approval by the Faculty Senate before the end of the academic year. At a time when resources are restrained, it is crucial that we state more clearly our college mission and priority goals.

A second issue raised in the Middle States Report dealt with the ambiguity of the role for research at this College. We need to develop an appropriate rationale for research that is tailored to the mission of our College and the talents of our faculty and staff. I have spoken to the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate about this matter and would hope that a committee could be organized to prepare a draft statement for campus discussion. Though the Middle States Team saw a logical separation between research and teaching, I believe that the two should be inseparable at this college. A second committee will be organized to examine the best methods for improving and evaluating teaching effectiveness. The reports of all these committees will be widely circulated for discussion before final approval by the appropriate governance bodies.

Finally, the time has come to revamp our process and procedures for the evaluation of teaching faculty. If Winston Churchill were alive and reviewed our evaluation system, he would surely exclaim in sonorous tones, "Never have so many spent so much time to so little effect." The effectiveness of our evaluation system seems in inverse proportion to the time and energy put into it by the faculty and administration. In addition, it is imperative, as the Middle States Team strongly recommends, that all faculty be evaluated periodically and not just those considered for reappointment, promotion, and discretionary increases. I have spoken to the Executive Committees of the Faculty Senate and the United University Professions about the need for major changes in our evaluation process and early this fall will meet with both groups, along with my Executive Staff, to determine the most effective manner of tackling this task. Though these issues constitute a lengthy and difficult agenda, I believe we have the talent and the will to resolve them.

College's future bright

Eight years ago, when I made my first opening speech to you, the faculty, this College along with other institutions of higher education faced a grim financial future after more than a decade of what now seems a period of unbelievable affluence. In that speech, I warned that "The real threat to the quality of life and learning on campus today and in the future flows less from the new financial depression in higher education than from the new psychological depression in the academic spirit. This psychological depression springs not so much from a lack of money as from an abatement of hope and from an abandonment of will by faculty, staff and administration." Throughout the eight difficult years that followed that speech you never lost hope, nor will, nor spirit. Your commitment and creativity have more than earned the praise of the Middle States Team, who commended the College with almost a sense of awe for "overall excellence, steady gains in virtually all areas of activity, and remarkable endurance and improvement under grim fiscal conditions." I am honored to be your president, and my hopes for the future of this College, whatever the problems, are bright because of you.

COLLEGE RE-ACCREDITED FOR 10 YEARS; MIDDLE STATES REPORT GLOWING

The College has been re-accredited for ten years by Middle States and has been cited by the Middle States evaluation team for "overall excellence, steady gains in virtually all areas of activity, and remarkable endurance and improvement under grim fiscal conditions."

A nine-member team of educators from five states spent three days on campus in late April as part of the reaccreditation process. Following that visit, Chairperson David Adamany, President of Wayne State University, wrote a 38-page report representing the opinions of the team after reviewing the college's self-study, inspecting the campus, and interviewing faculty, administration, students, and College Council members.

Adamany commended the college in many areas, saying:

- "The team is impressed with the faculty's strong academic qualifications and their commitment to teaching."
- "The emphasis on quality and diversity has . . . drawn good quality students in numbers beyond the college's capacity; and it has made the college statewide rather than a regional institution."
- "The leadership and fiscal management are first rate."
- "One looks with envy on the college for the effectiveness of governance and administration there."
- "Members of the College Council show great dedication to their task and wisdom in the exercise of their authority."
- "The management of the physical plant is enormously effective . . . and the energy savings program and equipment impressed team members."
- The team was particularly complimentary to President Joseph C. Burke, saying, "We regard him, in all, as a remarkable President — an effective leader outside the college and within, a strong administrator and manager, and, most importantly, a chief officer of strong academic values and excellent academic tastes."

Some specific academic programs were viewed as having difficulties in certain areas, but Adamany noted that they were perhaps a result of the rapid transition from a teachers college to an arts and science college. He also said the college had already become aware of those difficulties and was working to eliminate them.

FAIRWEATHER RECEIVES DISTINGUISHED GEOGRAPHY TEACHING AWARD

Dr. Malcolm Fairweather, chairman of the geography department at the State University College at Plattsburgh is one of nine professors in North America to receive a Distinguished Teaching Achievement Award for 1982 from the National Council for Geographic Education. Recipients were chosen on the basis of their teaching ability; their role in the development of new courses, programs, and teaching methods; and publication of teaching materials.

Earlier this year, in an independent survey of geography departments at 110 colleges and universities nationwide, Plattsburgh's department was ranked seventh in teaching and eleventh overall.

Fairweather joined the faculty at Plattsburgh in 1973. Since that time, he has been awarded two SUNY Improvement of Undergraduate Teaching grants. He has presented 27 papers at professional conferences, and published a monograph, two atlases, 17 articles, and seven book reviews.

For the past three years, Fairweather chaired the committee to plan and implement a master's degree program on regional economic development. The degree program was approved by the SUNY Board of Trustees this spring and will admit candidates for the spring, 1983 semester.

COLLEGE COUNCIL
PLATTSBURGH-NEW YORK-12901

August 12, 1982

To the Faculty and Staff:

After reading the Middle States Evaluation Team's report, the members of the College Council and I wish to express our deep appreciation to every member of the faculty and staff at the College. A report as glowing as this obviously represents a concerted effort on the part of each person on the campus to do his or her best to achieve the College's mission.

The team's comment that its members were "impressed" with the faculty and staff's strong academic and professional qualifications, respectively, and their commitment to excellence came as no surprise to those of us who are well aware of your talents and dedication. It is, however, a pleasure to know that others recognize and appreciate those qualities.

The evaluation team's report was high praise to this institution, indeed, but, more important, it was a tribute to each and every one of you.

The College Council thanks you most sincerely,

Cordially,

Louis E. Wolfe
Chairperson

FRESHMEN QUALITY INDICATORS UP; FOUNDATION SCHOLARS NAMED

Three thousand students have taken up residence on the campus for the fall semester. The total fall enrollment is expected to be approximately 5,800, with 1,800 of that number freshmen and transfer students.

The incoming freshman class is the brightest in several years, according to Director of Admissions David Truax. These new students have a collective high school average of 85.7, up from 84.5 last year. Their scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test are also higher. They averaged 460 on the verbal test, up 14 points from last year, and 510 on the mathematics test, up 8 points. "Both scores are well above the national norms for college-bound seniors," Truax said, adding, "The national norm was 36 points lower on the verbal test and 44 points lower for math."

This year's class will have more students from the Clinton-Essex-Franklin County area. Last year, 17.6% of the incoming freshmen were from the North Country, while this year 20.1% of the class are area residents.

The College Foundation has selected seven new students as Foundation Scholars this year. The seven were chosen on the basis of academic ability and will receive the equivalent of full tuition scholarships. Their collective high school average was 95, and they averaged scores of 1260 on the SATs. The seven are Ingrid Cruse of Staatsburg, Lorrieanne Rendadette of Plattsburgh, Thomas Romano of Yorktown Heights, Gretchen Schawe of Morrisonville, Daniel Sileo of Peru, Karen Sutton of Rouses Point, and Cheryl Varin of Ellenburg Depot.

Plattsburgh's first State University of New York Honors Scholar is also on campus. Kathleen McCue of Latham, New York was selected as one of 18 New York State students to receive full four-year scholarships at SUNY units through the new program. McCue, who graduated from Shaker High School in Latham, had a high school average of 97, and scored 1330 on the SATs.

BURKE TALKS ON MIDDLE STATES REPORT, COLLEGE MISSION, AND FACULTY EVALUATION

In his annual fall address Tuesday, President Joseph C. Burke commended the faculty, staff and administration for their dedication and expertise which were praised so highly in the Middle States evaluation team's report. "This report is the best Middle State's report I have ever seen in my twenty-odd years in colleges and universities," Burke said. "We can be proud of what we have accomplished." "But," he added, "past and present successes can and should produce even greater expectations for the future."

Burke outlined 12 areas of concern which had shown up in the goals inventory performed by the self-study committee last year. These 12 areas showed considerable differences in perceived levels and preferred levels, and, he said, "These issues must be addressed." Two areas of concern, Burke said, are the rationale for research on campus and the criteria of effective teaching. In line with the latter issue, Burke intends to pursue, in cooperation with the Faculty Senate and the union, a revision of the procedure for the evaluation of teaching faculty.

Burke also hopes that the college community can prepare an official statement of the college's mission and goals this year. He would like to see a draft ready by the end of the first semester and the final copy prepared by May.

Burke commented on the college's level of applications and admissions for the the fall semester. "Nationwide, applications have dropped about 2%, but here they have remained at last year's level," said Burke. "Even better, the quality indicators for this year's freshman class have risen significantly."

Although the president's fall speech typically includes a lengthy section on the budget, Burke said he was de-emphasizing that aspect this fall, commenting, "Today, I want to talk less about the quantity of our budget and more about the quality of our performance. Though quality and quantity are clearly not unrelated, they are obviously not synonymous. I want to concentrate on quality issues largely within our control rather than fixating on budget problems that lie mostly beyond our influence."

FOUNDATION'S BUSINESS/CORPORATE CAMPAIGN SETS NEW RECORD

The Plattsburgh College Foundation's Business and Corporate Campaign has exceeded its goal for 1982, according to campaign chairman Harry Mowry. Gifts and pledges have surpassed the $65,000 goal by several hundred dollars with more contributions and pledges still expected. One hundred seventy businesses and corporations responded to the request for contributions for scholarship assistance with pledges and donations. Sixty-four of these are new donors.

In 1981, the four divisions of the Annual Giving Program raised $126,957, with the Business/Corporate campaign bringing in $49,655 toward that total.

Mowry, vice president of the Harris Corporation's Bindery Systems Division, said he was delighted with the results of the ten-week drive. "We were somewhat hesitant to set such an ambitious goal," he said, "but we felt it was imperative to raise that much money since the financial need of Plattsburgh State's students has increased so much. We were pleased to find that business people in Clinton County and the surrounding areas have recognized that need and have done their best to meet it."

College President Joseph C. Burke also expressed his gratitude, saying, "The generosity of the North Country business community is certainly gratifying, especially during these times of economic instability. I know that the students who receive scholarships from this fund will appreciate this tangible support from area business people." Burke also commended Mowry, co-chairpersons Martin D. Mannix, Jr., and Barbara M. Murray, and the thirty volunteer solicitors who worked on the campaign. "Their efforts on behalf of our students," he said, "are simply outstanding."

WARREN RESIGNS; LIU NAMED ACTING DEAN

Dr. Charles O. Warren, Jr. has resigned his position as dean of arts and science at the college to become vice president for academic affairs and provost at the State University College at Cortland. He assumed his duties at Cortland on August 1.

Dr. Houngh Liu, chairperson of the biological science department, has been named acting dean. Liu previously served in that position during the 1982 fall semester.

Dr. Ralph Clark is the acting chairperson of the biological science department.

13 FACULTY MEMBERS PROMOTED; 6 NAMED PROFESSOR

Thirteen faculty members have received promotions this fall. Promoted to full professor were Dr. Gary Brannigan, psychology; Dr. Raymond Doyle, foreign language; Dr. Patrick Fleury, mathematics; Dr. C. Leon Harris, biology; Dr. John Lewis, physics; and Dr. Gordon Pollard, anthropology.

Brannigan, a member of the college faculty since 1973, served several years as director of the Psychological Services Clinic. He is certified as both a clinical and a school psychologist. Brannigan has authored numerous articles and is the co-author of eight books dealing primarily with child psychology.

Doyle, who joined the faculty in 1968, teaches Spanish language and culture courses. He was the recipient of three Fulbright Fellowships between 1963 and 1971, and has held two NDEA grants, one grant from the U.S. Department of State, one from the Spanish government, and a SUNY travel grant.

Fleury joined the mathematics department in 1970 and teaches courses in both math and computer science. He was the primary organizer of the 1981 Hudson Symposium on "Advances in Non-Commutative Ring Theory," and has held several grants and three summer fellowships from the SUNY Joint Awards Council.

A faculty member since 1970, Harris teaches courses on animal physiology. Last spring, Harris published a book entitled Evolution: Genesis and Revelations. He has also been active in research in the area of neurophysiology.

Lewis came to Plattsburgh in 1969 after completing his studies in England and working for a time in France. He has held numerous grants, including two SUNY Research Fellowships and four grants from the Office of Naval Research. Several years ago, Lewis spent a sabbatical year as visiting professor at the CNRS Very Low Temperature Laboratory in Grenoble, France.

Pollard, a member of the anthropology department since 1970, is acting chairperson of the department this semester. He, too, has held several fellowships from SUNY and from the National Endowment for the Humanities. He is currently completing a monograph on archeological research in northwest Argentina.

Promoted to associate professor were Dr. Patricia Higgins, anthropology; Dr. Martin Lubin, political science; Monserrate Peralta, foreign language; Dr. Michael Stoller, business, and Cynthia Taylor, nursing.

Robert Davis, speech and hearing, and Agustina Herod, nursing, were promoted to assistant professor.

ART FACULTY SHOW ON DISPLAY IN KENT GALLERY

The College Art Faculty Show opens the fall gallery exhibition season in the Kent Gallery. Works by Robin Brown, William Crosby, Joseph Hennessy, Thomas Holland, William Klock, Richard Mikkelson, Roger Williams, Rosemary Olmsted, James Catalano, Helmmo Kindermann, and Barbara Walker will be on display through September 26. Also on display through the end of the month are the Head to Toe and In Between Costume Show in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery, Summer Specials in the Myers lobby, and the Alumni Exhibition in the Kent Gallery Alcove. All exhibits are free and open to the public.

OFF-CAMPUS READERS GIVE WEEKLY GOOD MARKS

This summer, we asked readers on our off-campus mailing list, including College Council members, Foundation members, retired faculty, etc., what they thought about Weekly. Much to our pleasure, 100% of those who responded read all or most of it and 95% rated it good or excellent.

A note on deadlines! Information for the calendar must be in the Office of Campus Life (or call Rich Mole at 2289) by 4 p.m. Thursday the week prior to publication. Do not assume that because you have reserved a room your event will appear on the calendar! Other materials must be in the Office of College Relations (or call Carolee Smith at 2090) by noon on Monday. We're happy to publish news of your accomplishments, so please keep us informed about what you, your department members, or your students are doing!

faculty notes

President Joseph C. Burke has been elected to a second term on the Board of Directors of the New York State Council on Economic Education, a non-profit, non-partisan organization working to increase understanding of the economic system among residents of the state. . . ## DIRECTORS NAMED FOR FOUR OF THE COLLEGE'S NEW CENTERS

A reorganization of several departments and individual faculty members has resulted in the formation of five academic 'centers' at the College. Proposed two years ago by President Joseph C. Burke, the new structure is intended to foster interdisciplinary teaching and research on the campus and to encourage public service and artistic performance for the community. Directors have been selected for four of the centers.

The Center of Business and Economics, which includes the faculty and degree programs from the business and economics department, is headed by Dr. Miles Martin. Martin taught for 17 years at the University of Pennsylvania, the Wharton School of Business, Michigan State, and Syracuse University. In 1979 he formed a management consulting company and operated the company fulltime for two years. His most recent position was vice president for academic affairs of Andrew Jackson University, where his primary responsibility was to establish a Washington campus of the Louisiana College to serve mature international students.

The Center for Earth and Environmental Science has drawn faculty from the departments of environmental science, biology, and earth science. Degree programs incorporated into the center include geology, environmental science, the 3/2 engineering program in geology/civil engineering and the secondary education earth sciences program. The center is directed by Dr. Donald Adams, former associate professor of environmental chemistry and hydrogeochemistry at Wright State University in Dayton, Ohio. Adams has served as assistant professor and chemical oceanographer at the Institution of Oceanography at Old Dominion University and as a chief scientist on several oceanographic research cruises.

Dr. George Maybury has been selected to direct the Center for Teacher Education which was designed to provide teacher education and needed educationally related services to all components of the North Country's social service agencies, public and private schools and other institutions of higher learning. Maybury has been Director of the Office of Educational Research and Services at Plattsburgh since 1978. Prior to that time he was District Superintendent of Schools and Executive Officer of the Albany-Schoharie-Schenectady Counties BOCES. He has frequently served as a consultant to various educational institutions.

The Center for Art, Music, and Theatre incorporates the degree programs in all three disciplines and joins all of the arts on the campus in a unique grouping for teaching, research and performance. Dr. Ann Zielinski, professor of art, has been named acting director of the center. Zielinski has been a member of the PSUC faculty since 1970.

The final configuration of the Center for Human Resources is still being determined and is expected to be announced shortly.

MALANCHUK RECEIVES $50,000 GRANT FROM EPA

Dr. John Malanchuk, associate professor of environmental science, has received a one-year $50,000 grant from the Environmental Science Department for work on "Ecological Effects of Toxic Substances on Ecosystem Level Properties." This is a cooperative agreement with the Environmental Research Laboratory in Athens, Georgia.

During the past year, Malanchuk has been working on a similar project also funded through an EPA grant in conjunction with the Athens laboratory. Under the earlier grant, he developed a computer program model which duplicates actual aquatic tests and can be used to determine the effects of various additives to an ecosystem. With the new grant, Malanchuk will refine the basic computer model and use the system to test atrazine, a herbicide which is currently used to control weeds in corn fields.

Malanchuk explained that atrazine is perhaps the most widely used herbicide in the country. He will test the substance to ensure that its use has no toxic effects on other plants and/or animals.

Malanchuk is currently incorporating his research studies and results in a graduate biology course on Pollution Ecology.

NEW DEPARTMENT HEAD FOR HEARING AND SPEECH SCIENCE

Dr. Raymond A. Domenico has been named to head the College's department of hearing and speech science. Domenico earned a bachelor's degree in psychology from Northeastern University and master's and doctoral degrees in speech pathology from Syracuse University. He was formerly employed at the Loretto Geriatric Center in Syracuse, where he served as director of the speech and hearing clinic, as chief of speech pathology services, and, most recently, as director of the division of rehabilitative and activities services. Domenico has taught at Ithaca College and at Syracuse University and has published several articles and presented papers at several professional conferences on communication disorders.

CANADIAN BUSINESS FUND AWARDS COLLEGE $29,715

The Business Fund for Canadian Studies in the United States, a non-profit Canadian corporation founded to increase knowledge of and understanding about Canada in the U.S., has awarded the College a grant in the amount of $29,715. The grant will fund a series of business conferences and a guest speaker series during the next two years.

Dr. Richard Beach, Director of the Center for the Study of Canada and project director of the grant, explained that the conferences will be designed to provide businesspeople in this region with a thorough understanding of the nature of Canadian business, particularly in New York State and the local area. The conferences, he said, will be organized with the assistance of the College's Center for Business and Economics, the Technical Assistance Center, and the Regional Economic Development program.

The guest speaker series will bring ten prominent Canadian businesspeople and educators to campus each year for the next two years.

Beach commented that competition for funding of projects was very intense, with a wide range of projects from numerous institutions under consideration. The selection committee, which was comprised of six presidents and vice presidents of Canadian multi-national firms, approved projects from only three colleges. The other two institutions receiving funding for their projects were Brigham Young University and Case Western Reserve.

COLLEGE HAS $83 MILLION EFFECT ON CLINTON COUNTY

Plattsburgh State injected $32,995,029 directly into the Clinton County economy in 1981, according to an economic impact study conducted this summer by the College and the Technical Assistance Center. Based on a standard multiplier factor, the College's total direct and indirect spending within the county amounted to $82,487,573 in 1981, which means that $1 of every $14 spent in the county was generated by the College, its students and employees. Compared to the last survey conducted in 1979, this is an increase of $7,262,262 in direct spending and $27,406,538 in indirect spending.

An analysis of the $32,995,029 direct impact shows that faculty and staff spent $13,375,457 within the county in 1981; students spent $11,673,051; the College itself purchased goods and services totalling $2,192,785; College Auxiliary Services, the Research Foundation and the food service spent $3,582,738 locally; and visitors to the College in 1981 (parents, alumni, etc.) spent $2,170,998. Faculty and staff averaged expenditures of $13,933, while students spent an average of $2,124. The College paid $2,192,785 for local goods and services. That includes fuel oil ($1,200,700), electricity ($369,700), supplies and equipment ($269,937), telephone services ($225,200), water and sewage payments ($79,100), and trash removal ($48,148).

The complete economic impact report may be obtained in the Office of College Relations.

STATE FUNDS TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE CENTER

The College's Economic Development and Technical Assistance Center will continue to operate, thanks to a funding bill passed by the State Legislature and signed this summer by Governor High Carey. The bill appropriates up to $125,000 for the 1982-83 fiscal year to the College for the support and continued operation of the Center. According to Jim King, acting director of TAC, the funding bill was necessary because money from the Economic Development Administration was significantly reduced.

President Joseph Burke commented that he was very pleased to see the total bipartisan support in the legislature for TAC and its work, adding, "This area would certainly be even more disadvantaged economically were it not for the assistance TAC provides to area businesses. The TAC Center, in existence for ten years, serves a 16-county region between the Canadian border and the Mohawk Valley. The Center offers its services to businesses and industries seeking to expand or locate in the economically depressed region, and to local and state development agencies. During the past five years, the Center has completed over 600 projects within the area, generating more than $100,000,000 in capital investments, and assisting firms in creating or preserving more than 9,000 jobs.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION HELPS FUND BOMB CALORIMETER

The National Science Foundation has approved a grant application, written by Dr. James Woehr, assistant professor of environmental science, for matching funds to purchase a bomb calorimeter. The NSF will contribute $6,000 toward the purchase.

Woehr explained that the piece of equipment determines the energy content of a material by burning it and measuring the resultant heat output in calories.

Woehr will use the calorimeter as part of a long-range study of how forests and herbivores interact. He plans to research the abundance of white-tailed deer and showshoe hares in relationship to the abundance of food in certain areas over a 20-year period, and will use the calorimeter to determine the amount of food energy available to these animals in that area.

'DUO DA SALO' TO OPEN CHAMPLAIN CHAMBER MUSIC SERIES

The opening concert in the Champlain Chamber Music Series, "Du da Salo," will feature the husband-wife team of Barbara Lister-Sink on piano and Bruce Plumb on viola performing a selection of music by Benedetto Marcello, Robert Schumann, Claude Debussy, Paul Hindemith, and Joannes Brahms. The concert will be held on Sunday, September 12 at 8 p.m. in the Hartman Theatre. Tickets are $3 for the general public, and $2 for non-PSUC students and senior citizens. Admission is free for PSUC students, faculty and staff with I.D.

FACULTY EXCHANGE SHOWS WITH UVM CONTINUE

Last winter, the first in a series of faculty exchange exhibitions between the College and UVM was held, when two faculty members from Vermont showed works in the Kent Gallery Alcove. William Crosby and Edgar Barton, both professors of art, will exhibit works in the UVM Colburn Gallery from September 14 through the 24th as part of the program. Called "Two From the Other Side," the show includes sculptures by Barton and photographs and paintings by Crosby. An opening reception will be held at 5 p.m. on September 14.

The next exchange show will be held in October in the Kent Gallery and will feature drawings by Linda McIntyre of UVM.

TWENTY-NINE FULLTIME FACULTY NEW TO CAMPUS THIS FALL

Twenty-nine fulltime faculty members and two new NTPs have joined the Plattsburgh State professional staff this fall. New faculty members include: Dr. Donald Adams, environmental science; Dr. Jerzy Baranowski, chemistry; Dr. G. Michael Black, political science; James Catalano, art; John Diemer, environmental science; Dr. Raymond Domenico, hearing and speech science; Neal Duffy, business and economics; Dr. Patrick Fitzsimmons, mathematics; Dr. Janet Groth, English; J. Justin Gustainis, communications; Jane Hamilton, education; Douglas Kacharvich, HPER; Mark Kaiser, business and economics; Carol Koehler, communications; Dr. Alma Lara, nursing; Dr. Alexes Levitin, English; Nancy Loper, Feinberg Library; Dr. Miles Martin, business and economics; Hugh McAllister, business and economics; Gordon Muir, Feinberg Library; Dr. John O'Hara, business and economics; Dr. Jean Ostasz, home economics; Deborah Pica, biology; Dr. Mark Schuh, computer science; Dr. William Teter, computer science; Dr. Martin Treon, hearing and speech science; Marie Winterkorn, nursing; Paula Yellin, psychology; and Dr. Taher Zandi, psychology.

New on the Student Affairs staff is James Prehoda, dormitory director and programming coordinator, and SSP Counselor Sharon Benson.

DOUG KACHARVICH NEW HOCKEY COACH

Doug Kacharvich, former assistant hockey coach at Division I's Lake Superior State College in Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, is the new hockey coach at Plattsburgh State.

Announcing the appointment of the 35 year-old Kacharvich, Dr. Eldridge Roark, vice president for student affairs, said, "We are very pleased and excited to have someone with his impressive credentials, as a player and as a coach, taking over the hockey program at Plattsburgh. We are committed to maintaining our excellent hockey program and we are certain that Kacharvich is the man to do just that."

Kacharvich received a bachelor's degree from Lake Superior State College in 1971 and a master's degree in recreation and administration from George Williams College in 1975.

He played Junior A hockey from 1964 through 1967 with the Garson-Falcon Bridge Native Sons, the Sudbury Wolves, the North Bay Trappers, and the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds.

From 1967 through 1971, Kacharvich played varsity hockey with Lake Superior, as a starting left wing. Following his graduation, Kacharvich played semi-pro hockey with the Greenbay Bobcats for a year, and with the Chicago Warriors for three years.

Kacharvich was involved with the program at Lake Superior for seven years, first as junior varsity hockey coach, then as assistant hockey coach for the varsity team. He was also director of intramural activities and an instructor in the physical education department. He spent one year (1979-80) in Stuttgart, Germany as a player coach for a hockey team there.

'SUMMER PROJECTS' ON DISPLAY IN MYERS LOBBY

Results of two "summer projects" in the College's art department are currently being exhibited in the Myers Fine Arts Building Lobby. The first, an exhibition of photographs, is the result of a field trip taken by William Crosby, professor, and Roger Williams, assistant professor, with four students last May. The trip, explained Crosby, was not taken for credit, but was rather an outgrowth of interest on the part of faculty and students, who pooled their funds and resources for several days of travel, camping, and photography. The two faculty members and four students, Tim Mante '82, Caroyl LaBarge '82, Barron Lux '83, and Don Ranta '83 visited several areas along the Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Maine coastlines and the photographs on exhibit include black and white and color images of people, places, and landscapes along that coast.

The second part of the exhibition is a display of clay sculpture produced by summer session students in an experimental course taught by Professor William Klock and Associate Professor Rick Salzman. The course, according to Klock, focused on experimentation in clay construction methods, surface embellishment, and with the generation of new ideas and approaches within the clay media.

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT FOR HONORARY DEGREE CANDIDATES

Nominations are now being solicited for candidates to receive honorary degrees from SUNY next spring. Honorary degrees are intended to recognize excellence and extraordinary achievement which exemplify the mission and purpose of SUNY; to honor meritorious and outstanding service to SUNY, New York State, the United States or humanity at large; or to recognize persons whose lives and significant achievements should serve as examples of the University's aspirations for its students.

Nominees may not (except under unique and unusual circumstances) be members of the SUNY Board of Trustees, the College Councils, Community College Boards of Trustees, currently employed in the SUNY system, or current holders of or active candidates for public office. Nominations may be submitted to the President's office. A faculty committee will be formed in the next few weeks to assist in the procedure.

DEATH PENALTY DISCUSSION SET FOR SEPT. 15

"Do We Need the Death Penalty," a panel discussion on capital punishment will be held at 7 p.m. on September 15 at Plattsburgh State. The members of the panel will be Assemblyman Andrew Ryan, a long-time supporter of the death penalty; Diane Geary, interim director of the NYS Coalition for Criminal Justice, a lobbying group opposed to capital punishment; and Jonathan Gradess, executive director of the NYS Defenders' Association. The Defenders' Association has recently completed a research project on the costs of capital punishment which indicates that it is more costly than life imprisonment.

The discussion will be moderated by Dr. Tony Poveda, associate professor of sociology at Plattsburgh State, and will take place in Ballroom B of the College Center.

COLLEGE RECEIVES $419,000 GRANT FOR COOPERATIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM

The College has received a five-year $419,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Education to fund a cooperative education program. Dr. Ann Hasting, who wrote the grant application, has been named director of the program.

Hasting said, "Cooperative education programs are intended to bring business, industry and government into direct cooperation with students and educators. They give students the opportunity to earn funds that may be needed to support and complete their education while giving them out of classroom experiences that closely integrate and enrich their total education."

Paid internships will be developed to provide full- and part-time placements during the academic year and in the summer. They will be open to upperclassmen for credit, and on a non-credit basis to underclassmen. Since students are paid by the employer, stipends will vary.

The grant covers the cost of administering the program on campus. Hasting said the funding includes personnel costs for a director, assistant director (yet to be selected), and secretary, travel costs, and other direct and indirect expenses. The primary responsibility of the campus office will be to develop the placements for students, and organizations in this area, around the state, and even in other states, will be approached and encouraged to participate.

The cooperative education program is expected to be in operation by the spring semester. The office will be located on the tenth floor of the Kehoe Building and will be open by the end of September. Hasting encourages any student interested in participating in the program to contact her after that time.

HUMAN SERVICES CENTER DEFINED; DR. MARILYN CHASE NAMED ACTING DIRECTOR

The Center for Human Services has been organized on an experimental basis and Dr. Marilyn Chase has been named acting director. Dr. Jerome Supple, Vice President for Academic Affairs, explained that the new center will include the entire home economics department, the counseling program, and two members of the sociology faculty, Dr. Jeffrey Broadbent and Dr. Padmini Gulati. This configuration will be evaluated during the next year and reconsidered at the end of that time.

Dr. Marilyn Chase has chaired the home economics department for the past two years. She originally joined the faculty at Plattsburgh in 1967 as an assistant professor. She was promoted to associate professor in 1978.

CANADIAN CONSUL AND VICE CONSUL TO VISIT CAMPUS THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Sean Brady, consul, and Stuart Hughes, vice consul at the Canadian Consulate General in New York City will be guests on campus on Thursday and Friday, September 16 and 17. The Canadian diplomats will open an exhibit of Canadian photographs entitled "Sights of History." The exhibit is the result of a nationwide competition held in 1980 to assemble a Canadian national photo album. The result is a collection of 106 photographs, old and new, by amateurs and professionals, which gives a special account of Canadian history through the depiction and description of some of the nation's historic sites. "Sights of History" will be on display in the Cardinal Lounge for the next four weeks on Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays from noon to 2 p.m., and by request at the College Center Desk.

In addition to opening the exhibition, Brady and Hughes will give two lectures on Friday. At 10:30, they will talk on "Acid Rain: A Litmus Test for Canadian-American Relations" in the College Center Ballroom. Prior to the lecture, the film "Acid Rain: Requiem or Recovery" will be shown.

A 2 p.m., they will meet with the PSC 470 class on U.S. Foreign Policy and speak on "Managing the Canadian-U.S. Relationship: Do the Mechanisms Still Work?" in Hawkins Hall Room 141. Both lectures are open to the campus community, but seats at the 2 p.m. lecture will be limited.

Brady, who, in addition to holding the position of consul also heads the general relations and public affairs division at the Consulate, has been a foreign affairs officer since 1970. He has served his country in Hong Kong and Thailand, as well as in the United States.

Hughes, the general relations and public affairs officer with responsibility for academic relations, joined the Canadian foreign service in 1975 and has served with the Canadian permanent mission to the United Nations, as vice-consul in Mexico, and as science desk officer for the Science Environment and Transportation Policy Division.

FIVE POSITIONS RESTORED TO COLLEGE BUDGET

Five positions requested in the College's 1982-93 budget have now been authorized for the campus. According to Vice President for Academic Affairs Jerome Supple, the positions were originally intended for allocation to other departments when the Campus School closed in June. The positions, Supple said, will be used to support elements of the five-year plan as proposed in the 1982-83 budget request.

KING NAMED DIRECTOR OF TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE CENTER

James King has been named Director of the Economic Development and Technical Assistance Center. King has been the Center's assistant director since 1978 and has been responsible for marketing and financial packaging in conjunction with private industry and regional economic development in the Center's sixteen-county region. Announcing King's appointment, Plattsburgh President Joseph C. Burke said, "We are very pleased to have a man of Jim's caliber in this position," and added, "It was largely through his efforts that the recent campaign to fund EDTAC through the state was so successful."

King holds a master's degree in business administration from Bowling Green State University. During his four years with the Technical Assistance Center, he has been involved with post-Olympic development in Lake Placid, with a major grant made to New York Air Brake Company in Watertown, with an industrial expansion package which brought the Canadian firm of Phillips Cables into the North Country and with numerous other business ventures. King is also the program manager for the Energy Advisory Service Industry, which assists businesses with fuel conservation measures.

DR. ARTHUR W. FOSHAY DISTINGUISHED VISITING PROFESSOR IN EDUCATION

Dr. Arthur W. Foshay, professor emeritus of education at Teachers College, Columbia University, is spending five weeks on campus as a Distinguished Visiting Professor in the Center for Teacher Education. During his five weeks at Plattsburgh, Foshay will participate in classes with the education center faculty, lecture at a Professional Studies colloquium and take part in several meetings of various organizations, including the Faculty Senate undergraduate curriculum committee. He will also give a public lecture early in October.

Foshay, who holds an A.B. degree from the University of California at Berkeley and an Ed.D. from Teachers College, Columbia, began his career in the Oakland Public School District as a teacher, principal, and later guidance counselor. He was, for a time, professor and director of the Bureau of Educational Research at Ohio State, and later was Director of the Horace Mann-Lincoln Institute. He then joined the Teachers College, Columbia University faculty as Associate Dean of Research and Field Services. He subsequently served as professor of education in the department of curriculum and teaching.

Foshay has published over 100 articles and several books dealing primarily with curriculum development, including Essays on Curriculum and Curriculum for the '70's, an Agenda for Invention.

Later this fall, the Center for Teacher Education will host another Distinguished Visiting Professor. Dr. Philip A. Cusick, professor of education at Michigan State University, will be on campus from October 18 through December 10.

SECOND ALUMNI TELETHON KICKS OFF THIS WEEK

The second annual telethon to raise money for the alumni fund kicks off on September 15, according to Malcolm Lavery, Director of Alumni Affairs. Lavery explained that during the first telethon, held last October and November, 18 students called approximately 2,000 alumni. As a result of those calls, 1,167 alumni pledged $18,446. Eight-five percent (approximately $16,000) was actually received by the end of the 1981 fund drive.

This year, Lavery said, a student intern, Jim DeLuca, will assist with the organization of the telethon. Thirty students will make telephone calls on 21 nights, in an effort to raise $35,000 in pledges. The students will use the facilities of WCFE to make the calls.

Money raised through the telethon and through other efforts for the alumni fund is used primarily to assist Plattsburgh students through scholarships.

CLARIFICATION OF COLLEGE POLICY ON CLASS ATTENDANCE ON RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS

In order to conform with the Education Law mandating a full academic semester, the College was required to adopt a calendar that does not permit the dismissal of classes on religious holidays.

However, the Education Law provides that students who are unable to attend classes or participate in any examination, study or work requirements because of religious beliefs will not be penalized. Faculty and administrative officials will provide an equivalent opportunity to make up any examination, study or work requirements which students may have missed as a result of absence because of religious beliefs.

SMALL BUSINESS MANAGEMENT SEMINAR SLATED FOR SEPTEMBER 27 -28

The Division of Continuing Education, the Technical Assistance Center, and the United States Small Business Administration are co-sponsoring a Small Business Management Seminar which consists of two sessions to be held September 27 and 28 at the Plattsburgh Holiday Inn, from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. The Small Business Management Seminar is specifically geared for individuals who operate their own small business or who would like to start one. This seminar focuses on many of the critical skills required to begin and operate a successful business.

Topics will include: discussion of proprietorship, partnership, and corporation; meeting I.R.S. requirements for year end tax purposes; depreciation methods/investment credit; sales and cash receipts journals; how to develop and analyze financial statements; and short range and long range cash planning/budgeting.

The seminar faculty are Michael Reese, and Bill Bordeau, business consultants for the Technical Assistance Center, and David Brinck of the Small Business Administration.

FRATERNITY WINS LIBRARY GRANT FROM NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

The Sigma Tau Phi chapter of Alpha Chi Rho recently was awarded a $100 grant to be presented to the Feinberg Library. The grant was made to the local chapter by the fraternity's national organization because the cumulative average for the members on the Plattsburgh campus for academic 1981-82 (2.67) was higher than the cumulative average for all males on campus (2.54). Fraternity President Patrick Cuzzola and Vice President Andy Sherman attended the national conference and received the award. The gift, which was officially presented on Monday to Cynthia Whitacre, gifts and exchange librarian, is unrestricted. Accepting the check Whitacre said, "We're very grateful for this gift and very proud of the fraternity members who earned it." She added that books purchased with the money will be marked with a plate indicating that they were the gift of the fraternity.

SIGMA XI TO HOST DR. LINDA BARTOSHUK

The campus chapter of Sigma Xi will sponsor a lecture by Dr. Linda Bartoshuk at 8 p.m. on September 22 in Room 106 of Hudson hall. Bartoshuk will speak on "Do Things Really Taste the Same to Everyone? Some Demonstrations of Taste Phenomena." Bartoshuk has been associated for the past ten years with the John B. Pierce Foundation, and holds concurrent appointments as associate professor in the departments of epidemiology and psychology at Yale. She is also a consulting editor for "Perception and Psychophysics" and "Sensory Processes." Her lecture is free and open to the college community and the public.

'THE ALPS' TO BE THIS YEAR'S KODAK MULTIVISION SPECTACULAR

"The Alps — The Discovery in Pictures" is the title of this year's Kodak Multivision Spectacular, which is scheduled for Friday, October 1 in Hawkins Hall auditorium. The special three-screen presentation offers single and multiple images, in conjunction with a commentary. Because of the demand for tickets for earlier presentations, this year, for the first time, there will be two showings. The first will run from 6:45 to 8:15 p.m. and the second will run from 9:15 to 10:30 p.m. Tickets are free and will be available beginning Monday, September 20 at the Center for International Studies at 133 Court Street. The presentation is co-sponsored by the Center, the Press Republican, and Ray Supply.

FIELD TRIP TO MONTREAL SET FOR THIS WEEKEND

The Center for the Study of Canada will host a two-day excursion to Montreal on September 18 and 19. A chartered bus will leave the campus early Saturday morning. Following a scenic tour of the Richelieu River area and historic Fort Chambly, the group will head for downtown Montreal. SUNY students presently studying at McGill University will be available to provide an overall orientation about the city. Participants will be free on Saturday evening and Sunday morning to shop and tour.

Before returning to Plattsburgh on Sunday, the group will enjoy a Quebecois lunch at the 150-year-old Auberge Handfield.

The trip is open to any member of the college community at $45 triple occupancy or $55 double occupancy, plus meals. Saturday night will be spent at the Holiday Inn on Sherbrooke Street. For reservations, call 564-2086 or visit the Center for the Study of Canada at 133 Court Street.

SUPERVISOR TRAINING COURSE TO BE OFFERED

The Office of Personnel/Affirmative Action will be conducting a twelve-week Supervisor Training Course for classified employees this fall. The course will be a combination of classes which will meet Tuesday's, 1:30 - 2:30 p.m., and labs, Wednesdays, 2:00 - 3:00 p.m.

The course is designed for employees who are presently or would like to become supervisors or work leaders. Some of the topics to be discussed are the Role of the Supervisor, Communication, Counseling and Motivation, Staffing, and Performance Evaluations.

Call Paula Hays, Sr. Personnel Administrator (564-3062) for more information and to register for the course. Deadline for applications is Wednesday, September 22, 1982.

SPORTS UPDATE

Three Plattsburgh State teams came home with championship titles this weekend. Racing in intense heat, the stamina-rich Cardinal cross country teams won the men's and women's events at the St. Michael's College Invitational Saturday. Dave Champagne notched his first intercollegiate victory, winning the 5.5-mile run in 27:36 to lead PSUC (21 points) over Johnson State (52), St. Michael's (63), Norwich (110) and Lyndon State (119). Lisa Holck's second-place finish in 17:09 over the 2.8-mile course paced the Lady Cards (19 points) over St. Mike's (47), Johnson State (74) and Norwich (incomplete team). The men's soccer team won the Castleton Tournament, blanking the host school 2-0 and dropping Hussen College 3-1. John Sovay recorded his first shutout and John McDonagh and Dom Szambowski scored a pair of goals. The Cards are now 2-0-1. The Redbird women's soccer club finished its exhibition season with a third-place showing at the Plymouth State Tournament Sunday. PSUC was stopped by Plymouth 4-0 and then lost to Keene State 3-2 in an overtime shootout. Although both tennis teams lost 6-3 decisions, Sadik Sendich won in singles and doubles in the men's home opener with RPI, while Randa Khader, Anita Shephardson and Sue Costigan had singles victories at Potsdam State.

COMMITTEE PRESENTS PROPOSALS FOR CAMPUS BEAUTIFICATION

The ad hoc Committee on Beautification appointed last year by President Joseph C. Burke to inspect the grounds and landscaping and building interiors and exteriors on the campus and to prepare a report with recommendations for upgrading the appearance of the campus has completed its tasks. Committee Chairman Derek Allan, facilities director, said, "We have prepared a fairly specific overall plan for what needs to be done on campus and a financial plan to accomplish our goals." He added, "If the college can see the way to funding these recommendations, we can have a very beautiful campus."

After reviewing the committee's recommendations, Burke said, "Keats was right. Beauty is truth and truth beauty. The ambience in which learning takes place is very important." Burke added that in a $19.6 million budget, the amount requested to fund these projects (approximately $10,000 annually) is very minor and he made a commitment to try to make money available for this purpose.

The beautification committee's recommendations include ten items that, "if implemented, would result in a significant improvement to the appearance of the campus." They include: increasing campus awareness and individual responsibility to assist in the plans; a program directed toward public art; support for litter receptacles, bike racks, and guard rails around campus; improving daily cleaning in the vicinity of principal entrances; establishment of a permanent committee; designation of an academic building supervisor in each building to establish a closer working relationship with Buildings and Grounds staff; a mandatory damage deposit for students; evaluation of the functions of the Buildings and Grounds Department; evaluation of expenditures and staffing in recent years with comparable institutions; and institution of formal policies on decoration and application of improvements in public areas to ensure that they are consistent with architectural and design requirements.

Several efforts toward beautification have already been made across the campus. This summer, Daui Woodin, assistant registrar, headed a volunteer committee which planted, watered, and otherwise tended the flowers in the College Center stairwell gardens, on the podium, and in various other locations on campus. Benches have been commissioned and are being installed near the college center and on the podium. New trash receptacles have been installed in the college center courtyard.

A major installation of works from the college's permanent collection has also taken place. Sixty lithographs, etchings, screen prints and multiple collages by several contemporary American artists have been installed in the Orchard Room, the Cardinal Lounge, on the second floor of the Kehoe Building and throughout the Myers Fine Arts Building. Gallery Director Ed Brohel, a member of the beautification committee, said the installation was accomplished through the combined efforts of the committee, the art galleries, the Office of Facilities Planning, the College Center, Buildings and Grounds, the Campus Arts Council and College Auxiliary Services.

UUP, STATE REACH TENTATIVE AGREEMENT; 9% RAISE IN FIRST YEAR

Late Monday afternoon, United University Professions and New York State negotiators signed a tentative contract agreement. The three-year agreement, if approved by the union membership, provides for a 9% salary increase in the first year, and 8% increases in the two subsequent years. An additional 1% will be available in each of the three years in the form of discretionary merit increases. The tentative contract, however, also contains a two-week payroll lag provision, which will be accomplished over several pay periods.

Ken Loach, the local chapter's representative on the negotiation team, said that the contract includes an improved dental plan to be in effect by January, 1983, and a state-financed employee benefits fund as of July 1, 1983.

Loach said a summary of contract details was mailed to all members of the union on Tuesday afternoon from the UUP Central Office in Albany. This mailing will be followed by a complete text of the tentative agreement. The American Arbitration Association has been selected as the official vote counting organization, but the date has not yet been set for the balloting. Loach will attend a briefing meeting on Saturday and anticipates making a report on contract details to the chapter membership in the near future. In the meantime, questions may be directed to him.

Derek Allan, Julie Brault, Mike Walsh, and Daui Woodin volunteered many hours this summer planting and taking care of the lovely flowers on campus.

PLACEMENT SURVEY INDICATES CLASS OF 1981 DOING WELL

The recently released report on the Graduate Career Survey of the Class of 1981 shows that the graduates of that year fared well in the job market despite the poor performance of the national economy. Patrick Lennahan, Director of the Office of Career/Life Planning and Placement, explained the survey and its results. Questionnaires were sent to 1,131 graduates in mid-April and follow-up telephone calls were made in May and June. Responses were received from 735 alumni, or 65% of the 1981 graduates. Eighty-five percent of the respondents said they were employed, 7% indicated they were not seeking employment and 8% said they were unemployed. Adjusting the scale for those not seeking employment, 91% of the class are employed. Lennahan said that was very close to the survey results of three prior years. Additionally, 74% of the respondents said they were employed in a field directly related to their major. Two new questions on this year's survey were related to job satisfaction and career potential. Eight-three percent of those responding said they were satisfied or highly satisfied with their jobs, and 73% said the position held definite or possible potential for career advancement.

A question on continuing education showed that while 15% of the 1981 graduates are enrolled in full-time educational programs, 37% have continued their education in one form or another and one third of those report that this has been funded at least in part by their employer.

The type of organization employing the class of 1981 includes: business and industry (48%), education (22%), non-profit organization (13%), government (9%), and the military (1%). Two percent said they were self-employed and 5% indicated their positions fell into the "other" category.

Lennahan said that salary information was also requested on the questionnaire. The tabulation showed that 13% earn less than $7,000, 15% earn between $7,000 and $9,900, 28% earn between $10,000 and $12,900, 21% earn between $13,000 and $15,900, 10% earn between $16,000 and $18,000, and 12% earn more than $19,000. Lennahan cautioned that this data is of limited value because of the wide variance in salaries in different occupations and geographical regions.

ALUMNI PHONOTHON RAISES $14,000 IN SEVEN NIGHTS

After only seven nights at the telephones, student volunteers have secured nearly $14,000 in pledges in the second annual alumni phonothon. Alumni Affairs Director Mal Lavery said that pledges totalling $13,949 have been made by 1,235 alumni. Seventy-four percent of those pledges have come from people who have never before contributed to the fund. Lavery said, "Our primary goal for the phonothon was to increase the number of alumni participating in the fund drive, and I consider this an outstanding success rate." He attributed the success to the "remarkable enthusiasm of the students making the calls!"

Lavery added that last year's phonothon ran for 12 nights and secured pledges from 1,167 donors, fewer than have already pledged in only seven nights. Students will be making calls for 14 more nights. Money from the phonothon is used primarily for student scholarships.

PSUC GRADUATE NAMED DEPUTY COMMANDER FOR OPERATIONS AT PAFB

Colonel Wayne E. Clark, who received a bachelor's degree from the College in 1975, has been named Deputy Commander for Operations of the 380th Bombardment Wing at Plattsburgh Air Force Base. Clark, a Burlington, Vermont native, has been a member of the U.S. Air Force for 22 years and has served three tours of duty, totalling over ten years, at PAFB. At PAFB he has served as a combat crew member, an FB-111 instructor, bomber scheduling officer, chief of mission development, assistant director of training, director of navigation, director of training, and combat support group commander. After a brief tour in Korea as commander of the 8th Combat Support Group, he returned to PAFB last July as Assistant Deputy Commander for Operations. He assumed his new position September 1.

CANADIAN STUDIES PROGRAM OFFERS $$ TO DEVELOP COURSES, HOST SPEAKERS

The Center for the Study of Canada has announced that it is making available during the 1982-83 academic year two stipends of up to $600 each to develop mini-courses which are primarily Canadian content oriented. Dr. Richard Beach, Center Director, explained that the mini-courses would become part of the recommended Canadian Studies course offerings and could be used as credits toward the free elective component of the Canadian Studies major and minor. The application deadline is November 15.

Beach also announced that, through a grant recently received from the Business Fund for Canadian Studies, departments or centers may receive up to $150 to defray the expenses for guest speakers and symposium participants. The only stipulations, said Beach, are that the topic deal in some way with Canada, that the department or center provide some matching funds, and that both students and faculty are involved in the activity.

More information on these programs is available from Beach at the Center for the Study of Canada, 133 Court Street, 564-2086.

UUP BALLOTS IN MAIL; NEGOTIATING COMMITTEE SUPPORTS CONTRACT APPROVAL

Ballots on the tentative agreement between United University Professions and New York State have been mailed to all UUP members by the American Arbitration Association, according to Dr. Kenneth Loach, the campus representative on the negotiating committee. Loach said the ballots are to be returned to the AAA by October 25, and the result of the vote will be announced by the end of October.

Loach, who attended a briefing meeting on Sunday, said that the negotiating committee, after much discussion, voted to support the tentative contract and to recommend that the union membership approve it. Loach said, "Although I do not like everything in it, there is no doubt in my mind that this is a considerable improvement over the last contract, and I personally will vote for it."

Loach also said that the full text of the contract has been mailed to union members. He added that a membership meeting will be held on Thursday, September 30 at 4:30 in the College Center, Room 103 to discuss the contract terms.

LINK AUTHORS HISTORY OF COLLEGE OF EMPORIA

Dr. Eugene P. Link, professor emeritus of history, wrote a short social history of his undergraduate college, College of Emporia, Emporia, Kansas for its Centennial Celebration July 1 - 3 in Denver, Colorado. The 46-page document recounts the populist influence on the Presbyterian college especially by two noted graduates, William Allen White, the nationally famous editor of the Emporia Gazette and Vernon L. Parrington, one of the most eminent American historians. The souvenir booklet also brings out the outstanding contribution of a small liberal arts college in the history of higher education in America.

The College of Emporia was founded in 1882, and was forced to close in 1973 as a result of financial difficulties. Link, who received a bachelor's degree from Emporia in 1929, was asked to commit to paper the college's history.

A copy of The College of Emporia: In Retrospection and Appreciation is available in the Feinberg Library. Other copies may be obtained from Link.

CENTER FOR ART, MUSIC & THEATRE OPENS THREE EXHIBITS

Three art exhibits will open next Monday under the auspices of the Center for Art, Music, and Theatre. In the Myers Fine Arts Gallery, "Marjorie Strider 10 Years: 1970-1980" will feature sculpture and accompanying drawings created during those ten years by the artist. Strider has taught at the School of Visual Arts since 1969 and has had many one person shows and exhibited in numerous group shows. She has received several National Endowment for the Arts fellowships and has been "artist in residence" at several institutions. Following its showing on campus through November 7, the exhibition will travel across the United States for the next three years. Strider will present a slide lecture on Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the College Center Ballroom.

Opening in the Rockwell Kent Gallery Alcove is an exhibit of paintings and drawings by Lynda McIntyre, a member of the faculty of the UVM Art Department. This show is the third in a series of faculty exchange programs between the two universities. McIntyre has received awards from the Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont Councils on the Arts, and was a recipient of a MacDowell Fellowship and an Ossobaw Fellowship. Her work will be on exhibit through October 20.

Color photographs selected from the photography program's student inventory will be exhibited in the Myers Fine Arts Lobby through November 17. Each student taking the color photography course places one work in the College's permanent collection and photographs in the exhibit have been selected as the best works from the past few years.

The exhibitions will officially open with a reception in the Myers Gallery on Monday, October 4 from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m.

DISTINGUISHED VISITING PROFESSOR TO LECTURE ON TEACHERS AND RESEARCH

Dr. Arthur W. Foshay, distinguished visiting professor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, will speak on "Teachers as Researchers" at 7 p.m. on October 4 in the Cardinal Lounge. Foshay explained his topic, saying, "The idea that teachers can and should do research on teaching has a short history — since 1926. I shall explore this history, with illustrations from the Cooperative Action Research movement of the early 1950's." The lecture is free and open to the campus and community.

PELL GRANT CHECKS DELAYED; CHANGES ANNOUNCED IN OTHER FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS

Delays in the receipt of fall Pell Grant checks can be expected because of federally mandated validation procedures affecting more than half of all Pell Grant recipients, according to Suzanne Sokolowski, director of financial aids. These guidelines, Sokolowski said, require close scrutiny of parent/student tax returns to verify that correct income information was provided in the original Pell Grant application. She explained that hundreds of Pell Grant Student Aid Reports have had to be returned to the California processor for corrections as a result of errors that invalidated the original index number. In addition, she said, students who qualify for Veteran's or Social Security benefits have found their Pell Grants reduced or eliminated due to the revised federal formula for calculating Pell Grants. The only bright spot is that Congress recently overrode President Reagan's veto and passed the Supplemental Appropriations Bill, so students whose index numbers range from 0 to 400 will see increases up to $126 for the year. However, delays in receipts of these additional payments can be expected due to changes in computer programs which must be completed.

Sokolowski said that all students who receive TAP awards are now required to meet state-set standards for academic progress and program pursuit for each semester in which they expect to receive TAP. The academic standards were originally applicable only to students who received their first TAP payment for the fall 1981 semester, but all students were subsequently included to avoid the confusion which could arise from using two standards.

Interest on the federally subsidized PLUS loan will decreased from 14% to 12% after November 1, Sokolowski said. Parents can borrow a maximum of $3,000 a year to fund a student's education, and payment begins 60 days after the check is released to the parent.

Sokolowski added that work-study funds for '82-'83 are still available, and urged students who were advised that they had incomplete or late applications on file to stop in the Financial Aids office to inquire about possible participation in the program.

CELLULOID UNDERGROUND OFFERS MEMBERSHIP TO CAMPUS, COMMUNITY

A new organization, the Celluloid Underground, is looking for people interested in bringing to the campus a range of films other than the usual popular movies. Andy Bechard, a spokesman for the group, explained that membership is open to anyone on campus or in the community interested in foreign films, musical and cult films, and "the old classics." Membership in the organization is $5 and will cover admission to all films the group sponsors this fall. Bechard said that the Celluloid Underground meets on Wednesdays at 5 p.m. in the Late Night Study Room and everyone is welcome. He added that the group is working on a constitution and hopes to be recognized by the Student Association. More information is available from committee chairperson Liz Boolukus at 561-3709.

CAREERS IN BUSINESS SYMPOSIUM SET FOR OCTOBER 6

The second annual Careers in Business Symposium has been set for Wednesday, October 6 at 7:30 p.m. in CL-200. The symposium, co-sponsored by the Business and Economics Advisory Council, the Center for Business and Economics and the Office of Career/Life Planning and Placement, will feature four guest speakers. Gary Wagoner, personnel manager at Ayerst Laboratories, will discuss "Entry-Level Job Expectations;" David Lampell, vice president of Topic Systems, will speak on "Entrepreneurial Operations;" Thomas Pendergast, an advisory marketing representative with IBM, will have as his topic "Everything Depends on Sales," and Robert Cooper, director of graduate programs for the faculty of management at McGill University, will lecture on "Options in Management." The symposium is open to all interested students. A reception will follow the program.

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE FOR FULBRIGHT GRANTS

Applications are now available for Fulbright Grants for Graduate Study Abroad for the 1983-84 academic year. Al Mihalek, assistant to the dean of arts and science and the campus Fulbright program adviser, said that approximately 500 awards to 50 countries will be available. Applicants must be U.S. citizens, must hold a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of the grant, and, in most cases, must be proficient in the language of the host country. Selection is based on the candidate's academic record, proposed study plan, language preparation and personal qualifications.

Information and application material may be obtained from Mihalek at 564-3150 or in Hudson Hall 101. The local deadline for applications is Friday, October 8.

SPORTS UPDATE — VOLLEYBALL, WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS UNDEFEATED

Larry Barcomb's Cardinal volleyball team (2-0) won its first two games last week, handling Clarkson in three sets and taking Russell Sage in four. Sophomore spiker Nancy Esposito is the early standout for Plattsburgh State. The College's other undefeated team, women's cross country, won its own tournament Saturday. PSUC (22 points) easily beat McGill (51) and incomplete teams from Potsdam and Norwich to win the Cardinal Classic. Maureen McCoy, Lisa Holck and Maria Mason led the Redbird harriers. The men's cross country team finally was defeated but it took a Division I running power to beat the Cards. Siena College (17 points) won the men's team title in the Cardinal Classic with seven men in the top ten. Plattsburgh State (45) took the other three spots. Following Siena and PSUC were Norwich (90), Potsdam State (98) and McGill (127). Dave Champagne was the best Redbird finisher, running fourth. Losses suffered by the men's and women's soccer squads have different meanings. Uwe Meyer's men dropped important games to SUNYAC East rivals Albany (2-1) and Oneonta (3-0). Now 4-2-1, the men booters can ill afford to lose even one of their 10 remaining games. Sue Viscomi's Lady Redbirds, however, played brilliantly in a 2-1 overtime loss to Vermont. The close match with the Division I Cats should help the Cards (1-1-1) move up from the 10th spot in the Mid-Atlantic Women's Soccer Association poll. It was a tough week for both tennis clubs. McGill mastered the PSUC netmen 6-3 and set the Cardinal women 9-0. The women's tennis team also lost 7-0 to Clarkson and 4-3 to St. Michael's. The men are 1-3 and the ladies are 0-5.

ALPHA CHI RHO TO SPONSOR BIKE-A-THON

HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES SCHEDULED FOR ALUMNI AND STUDENTS

Homecoming '82, set for this weekend, offers a full schedule of activities for alumni and students alike. Festivities open on Thursday night with a coffeehouse at 8 p.m. in the College Center Blue Room, during which the Homecoming King and Queen will be crowned. On Friday, an open mike coffeehouse will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. in the Point and campus performers are welcome to display their talents. Alumni will begin arriving Friday evening and will be welcomed by President and Mrs. Joseph C. Burke at an informal reception at their home, followed by a reunion buffet in the College Center. Saturday morning, alumni will be able to tour the campus with student tour guides beginning at 8:30 a.m. The Homecoming Parade will step off at 10 a.m. from Plattsburgh Plaza and will follow a route east on Cornelia Street, south on Margaret Street, west on Broad Street and Rugar to the Field House parking lot. Following the parade, the President's Cup, Scholastic Cup and various float awards will be presented.

At 2 p.m. two Cardinal intercollegiate teams will host the Siena Indians. The men's soccer team will play at the Field House, while the volleyball squad sees action in the Sibley Hall gymnasium. Both games are free and open to the public.

Students will end the day at a semi-formal at the Field House from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m., while alumni will be feted at a dinner dance in the College Center Ballroom beginning at 7:30 p.m.

On Sunday, alumni will enjoy a buffet style champagne brunch in the Orchard Room to complete their weekend of nostalgia. The alumni board of directors will also hold their semi-annual meeting.

FRESHMEN LIKE COLLEGE'S ATMOSPHERE, ACADEMIC PROGRAM, LOCATION AND SIZE

Members of the freshman class at Plattsburgh State chose to enroll here because of the college atmosphere (67%), academic program (63%), academic reputation (62%), and the geographic location and size of the college (both 50%). This information was compiled through this year's Freshman Survey, completed by 849 incoming freshmen who attended summer orientation sessions.

The survey also indicated that the typical freshman comes from a town with fewer than 20,000 people (69%), is very sure of the decision to attend Plattsburgh (87%), believes that obtaining specific skills useful on a job and discovering vocational interests are very important (96%), and considers a career (97%) and marriage (71%) important in the future.

For the first time, the survey showed that a majority (53%) of the incoming freshmen come from families with a joint gross annual income of over $30,000, but 30% still have a major concern about their ability to finance their education, and 43% are sure of working while attending college.

The freshmen also indicated that the most influential source of information about the College was friends and acquaintances attending Plattsburgh State, ranking above campus visit and the college catalog.

GRANT APPLICATIONS, EXPENDITURES DOWN FOR '82-'83; ACCEPTANCE RATE UP

The number of grant applications processed, the amount of external money requested and the amount of active grant money on campus declined in the 1981-82 reporting year from the previous year, according to the annual grant summary report prepared by Dr. Paul Roman, Dean of Graduate Studies and Research. The acceptance rate of grant applications, however, showed a significant increase.

The grant summary shows that 67 grant applications were processed between September 1, 1981 and August 21, 1982, down from 72 the two previous years. These 67 grant applications requested $2,801,891 in funding from external sources, down from $3,499,161 in 1980-81, and $3,572,207 in 1979-80. Grant expenditures on campus totalled $892,000 in the most recent reporting period, compared with $979,700 in 1980-81, and a four-year high of $1,200,300 in 1979-80. During the past year, 55% of the grant applications were accepted up from 25% the previous year. Roman explained the unusually favorable rate as a result of a very successful record in SUNY grant applications.

The grant summary does not include external monies awarded to the Technical Assistance Center or individual fellowships, stipends, or grants-in-aid, which do not go through the Research Foundation.

COLLEGE TO PARTICIPATE IN NURSING CONSORTIUM

The State University of New York Board of Trustees has approved a proposal to combine the resources of several SUNY campuses to provide baccalaureate degree nursing opportunities in the Northeast part of the state. Dr. Jerome Supple, Vice President for Academic Affairs, explained that a need for an upper division nursing program has been determined, and the College of Technology at Utica/Rome, the Agricultural and Technical College at Canton, Empire State College, Upstate Medical Center in Syracuse, North Country Community College, and the College at Potsdam will join with Plattsburgh State to work on developing a program to respond to that need. Supple added that details of the program have not been worked out yet, but said he anticipated the consortium could be operational within the next two years.

MOWRY TO DEVELOP AND COORDINATE HONORS PROGRAM

Dr. David Mowry, associate professor of philosophy, has been appointed to a parttime position in the office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Mowry's principal responsibility, according to Dr. Jerome Supple, will be to work on the development of a rationale for honors programs at the College. Supple said Mowry will assess what is currently being done in the way of departmental honors programs, and work on developing a set of criteria for these programs. Mowry will also be responsible for developing a systematic approach for competing effectively for major awards, such as Rhodes scholarships. "We have been talking for a long time about honors programs," Supple said, "but until now no one has had the responsibility to coordinate them and to concentrate efforts in that direction."

Mowry will continue to teach two courses, but will no longer chair the philosophy department. Dr. John Yardan, professor, has been designed acting chairperson.

STUDENTS SAY ADVISORS ARE DOING A 'GOOD JOB'

The results of the first evaluation of academic advising and advisors by students have been tabulated, and the Director of Academic Advisement is happy with the results. Thomas Corigliano commented, "I am very pleased with the generally positive opinions expressed by the students in this survey!"

Just over 50 percent of the students responded to the 25 question survey, which was circulated last spring. An overwhelming majority (1,570) said that their advisor did a good job in helping them decide on classes and planning their long-term program. Corigliano explained part of the questionnaire, "Students were asked to respond to statements on a 1-5 scale, with 1 indicating never and 5 indicating always. The comment 'My advisor allows enough time in our meeting for me to ask questions and to discuss my concerns' received a mean score of 4.44, while 'My advisor shows a concern and respect for me as an individual' received a mean score of 4.46." He added, "These are very positive responses."

Corigliano commented, "The survey confirmed our belief that most students perceive their advisors as someone to see only at registration time (1,010 students saw their advisor only once a semester), instead of as someone who can help with other problems," and added, "We would like to work on changing this perception so students will come to their advisors for more than advice on courses."

Results of the survey summarized by curriculum codes are being sent to department chairpersons, center directors, and program coordinators. Individual faculty results are being sent directly to those faculty for whom at least five students responded to the questionnaire.

DR. EDWARD J. ALLEN DEAD AT 84

Word has been received of the recent death of Dr. Edward J. Allen, 84, professor emeritus. Allen, who lived in Springfield, Virginia, following his retirement in 1966, came to Plattsburgh in 1959 as a professor of social studies. Prior to joining the Plattsburgh faculty, Allen had held deanship positions at the University of Maine, the University of Denver, and Columbia University. He was active in community service and served as President of the Council of Community Service, a member of the Board of Trustees of the New York State Council on Economic Education, and vice president of the Economic Education Council on Northeastern New York. Speaking of Allen prior to his retirement, then-President George Angell commented, "His mastery of the subject of economics, his versatility, initiative and imagination, have made him a valuable asset to the College."

SHAKER HIGH STUDENTS AND FACULTY VISIT CAMPUS

Twenty students and eight faculty members involved in a special time-shortened degree program at Shaker High School in Latham, N.Y., visited campus last Friday. Admissions Director David Truax said the students are participating in a program designed ten years ago by Plattsburgh and Shaker High School faculty and which allows them to enter PSUC as sophomores. The high school seniors, who have already been through the admission screening process, take college level courses and receive credit from PSUC if they enroll here following high school graduation. Truax said the original program was designed through a three-year Carnegie Foundation grant, but proved so worthwhile that the College and the high school decided to continue it on their own.

Eight students who participated in the program last year, including the College's first SUNY Honors Scholar, Kathleen McCue, are now enrolled as sophomores.

COMMENCEMENT COMMITTEE TO BEGIN PLANNING FOR MAY CEREMONY

The 1983 Commencement Committee has been formed and is about to begin making plans for the May ceremony. Committee chairman Don Garrant announced that members of this year's committee include: Mark Christiansen, Dave Demeter, Stuart Denenberg, Scott DeSano, Jan Edwards, Allan Everest, Laureen Green, Heather Griffith, Cheryl Hogle, Billie Jackstadt, Don Keegan, Malcolm Lavery, Nicholas Mammano, Anna Nardelli, Randy Prior, Mary Redmond, Larry Shaffer, Sandy Slacer, and Suzanne Sokolowski. The committee's first meeting will be held on October 21 and anyone with suggestions for this year's commencement activities is asked to contact either Garrant or one of the committee members prior to that date.

FOREIGN SERVICE OFFICER TO PRESENT SEMINAR

Walter West, a veteran of 24 years in the Foreign Service, will visit the PSUC campus on Oct. 13 and 14. He will present an informal seminar on "Careers in the Foreign Service" at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 14, in the Cardinal Lounge. West has served in the U.S. consulates in Mexico, Japan, Colombia, Panama, Spain and Ecuador. He has also served in Washington, D.C., working in the Department of Commerce on relations with Japan, Thailand, Burma, and the Far East. He is presently on leave with SUNY Central under the Pearson Program, a service release program of the Foreign Service.

FACULTY SENATE FORMS AD HOC COMMITTEES

At the first meeting of the 1982-83 Faculty Senate, members passed resolutions to form three ad hoc committees. The three committees will be charged respectively, with "submitting . . . a draft of an official statement of mission and goals for this College," "submitting . . . a draft of a rationale for the role of research at this College," and "submitting . . . a draft of a systematic plan for improving teaching effectiveness at this College." Dr. Howard Miller, Senate chairman, said that each committee will be appointed by the Senate's Executive Committee after consultation with President Burke.

The next meeting of the Faculty Senate will be held on Tuesday, October 12 at 4:10 p.m. in FOB II, Room 111.

CHAMBER MUSIC SERIES TO OFFER AFTERNOON PERFORMANCES

The Champlain Chamber Music Series is expanding its program this season to include two afternoon performances. The first will be presented by composer Greg Knapp and pianist Kathryn Stuart on Thursday, October 14, at 12:15 p.m. in Myers Fine Arts Gallery. Ms. Stuart will perform and Mr. Knapp will discuss his recent work "Suite XVI: 16 Preludes for Piano." Knapp received his education from the Eastman School of Music where he is currently completing requirements for the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in composition. He maintains a private studio in Rochester, New York, where he teaches theory, composition, woodwind instruments and guitar. In addition, he enjoys a varied performance career including recording studio and jazz band work, solo and chamber music recitals and conducting. Kathryn Stuart is an assistant professor of music in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. The program is free and open to the public.

FOSHAYS TO HOST 'CONVERSATIONS ON CURRICULUM'

Dr. Arthur W. Foshay, and his wife, Dr. Angela Fraley Foshay, will host "Conversations on Curriculum" on October 13 from 4 to 7 p.m. in the Sibley Hall Library. The program, which is sponsored by the Center for Teacher Education and the Faculty of Professional Studies, will deal with the nature and shape of the curriculum field and works that can be considered to be "curriculum classics." Questions and problems introduced by the audience will also be discussed.

Foshay, professor emeritus at Columbia University, is currently a distinguished visiting professor in the Center for Teacher Education. Dr. Angela Foshay is the author of Schooling and Innovation: The Rhetoric and the Reality.

SPORTS UPDATE — WOMEN'S SOCCER TEAM SHUTS OUT THREE OPPONENTS

Women's soccer continues to be the number one success story of Plattsburgh State intercollegiate athletics. Sue Viscomi's Lady Redbirds are 4-1-1 after posting shutout victories over Lyndon State (4-0), St. Lawrence (1-0), and Middlebury (1-0). Pam Black was in goal for all three wins. Allison Jenks got the game winner against St. Lawrence and Sue Fox did the same against Middlebury. Fox and Mel Wisotzke tallied twice each against Lyndon State. The men's soccer team (5-3-1) found itself on both sides of 1-0 battles, defeating St. Michael's but losing to Cortland State. Jaime Parra scored and freshman keeper Ed Taylor got his first win against St. Mike's. Despite a fine team effort in a physical game, the Cardinals lost another SUNYAC contest, this one to the Red Dragons, last season's SUNYAC champions. Both the men's and women's cross country squads turned in disappointing performances. The Card men finished ninth of 22 teams in the Le-Moyne Invitational while the lady harriers suffered their first loss to Albany State, 21-35. Dave Champagne and Maureen McCoy again led their respective teams. The men's tennis team had a good week. The 3-4 netters beat Siena, 6-3, and Potsdam State, 5-4, but were edged by St. Michael's 5-4. Sadik Sendich and Jon McAnney continue to lead the Cards with help from Matt McCall. Despite the play of Randa Khader, the Redbird women's tennis team is 0-7 after losing to RPI (6-1), and Potsdam State (7-2). St. Lawrence spoiled the Plattsburgh State volleyball team's perfect start with a five-set win. Larry Barcomb's squad is now 2-1.

FACULTY/STAFF ASKED TO SUPPORT ANNUAL GIVING PROGRAM

The Plattsburgh College Foundation has kicked off a general appeal to the college faculty and staff to contribute to the 1982 annual giving program. Chairpersons Marilyn Chase and Herman Doh explained that a concerted effort is being made this year for the first time to encourage faculty and staff to participate in the drive as an incentive to people in the community and alumni. "If the college/community itself supports the drive, then it is much easier to convince others that the Foundation is a worthy cause," said Doh.

A letter being sent to each member of the college faculty and staff outlines the seriousness of the financial crisis for many of the college's students and concludes, "The welfare of many students, often their very survival, depends on financial aid from the community, the alumni, and those of us who work at the College, who perhaps best know how serious the problem of financial aid is."

Donors may, if they choose, earmark a gift for use in one of four separate categories, the student scholarship fund, to purchase library books and periodicals, to finance student travel to national and international scholarly conferences, or to fund student research.

Donors may also choose to contribute in three monthly installments from mid-October through December. All gifts to the Foundation are tax deductible.

ALPHA CHI RHO WINS PRESIDENT'S CUP FOR THIRD YEAR IN A ROW

For the third year in a row, Alpha Chi Rho walked away with the President's Cup this weekend. The Cup is presented to a campus group for outstanding community service. Over the past year, Alpha Chi Rho has raised money for several local charities, including the March of Dimes and the Multiple Sclerosis Chapter. They have also continued their visits to residents of the Clinton County Nursing Home and to patients at CVPH Medical Center on special occasions. Alpha Chi Rho also won the award for Best Overall Float in the Homecoming Parade.

Alpha Phi Gamma sorority, with a grade point average of 2.9, won the Scholastic Cup which is presented to the organization having the highest cumulative average over the past year.

Other floats awards went to Theta Kappa Beta for the Best Float by a Greek organization and to residents of Macdonough Hall for best float by a dormitory group.

Gene Thomas and Rita Zurmuhlen were elected Homecoming King and Queen, respectively, and were crowned in a ceremony Thursday evening.

Homecoming Queen Rita Zurmuhlen and King Gene Thomas.

ALUMNI BOARD RE-ELECTS TAKACS; SUPPORTS CAMPUS BEAUTIFICATION

At the fall meeting of the Alumni Association Board of Directors held during Homecoming Weekend, Daniel Takacs '58 was re-elected to a third term as president. Takacs, from Wappingers Falls, is an elementary school principal in that city's school district. Also re-elected to office were Virginia Damianos '50 of Stony Brook, as vice president, Stasia Arcarese '62 of Plattsburgh as secretary, and Nancy McGaulley '51, also of Plattsburgh, as treasurer.

The Board of Directors approved a $1,000 contribution to the campus beautification committee, after commenting on the improvement of the general condition of the campus. Alumni Director Mal Lavery said, "The directors were pleased with the flowers, the benches, and the picnic tables in the courtyard, and wanted to take part in and support the effort to make the campus more attractive."

The association also approved the largest operating budget in its history, amounting to just over $60,000. The budget provides for the operation of the alumni office, various publications including Plattsburgh Today, Homecoming weekend and class reunions, the Alumni Leadership Conference, and various services to undergraduates, including diploma covers and commencement activities.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA TO INITIATE 27 MEMBERS

Twenty-four students and three faculty/staff members will be initiated into the campus circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society, at 7 p.m. on October 16 in the Newman Center. The student members (21 undergraduates and three graduates) represent 21 different academic majors and their mean grade point average is 3.485. They are involved in activities across the campus and community and represent outstanding achievements in the areas of scholarship, athletics, the arts, journalism and mass media, and the areas of social, services, student government and student organizations, and religious life.

ODK has circles on 182 campuses in the country. The Plattsburgh circle was chartered in May, 1981 and is the first on a SUNY campus. Members are selected for Omicron Delta Kappa on the basis of academic achievements, contributions to the campus and community, and outstanding character.

The faculty and staff members chosen are William Laundry, director of campus life, Dr. Lawrence Shaffer, associate professor of psychology and Daui Woodin, assistant registrar.

The students to be initiated into the circle and their majors are: Christian Ambrosini (psychology), Theresa Brennan (special education/elementary education), Louise Carignan (sociology/human services), Michael Cleland (mass media), Susan Colello (home economics), David Demeter (political science), Scott DeSano (economics/business), Edward Engelbride (biology), Vickie Foss (hearing and speech science), James Greenbaum (English), Carlton Hallock (communications), Sean Hanlon (elementary and math education), Kimberly Hazen (child and family services), Scott Kane (computer science/math), Roger Knakal (biochemistry/biophysics), Darcey Lacey (child and family services), Michelle Mateus (education), Margaret McManus (computer science), Noreen Murphy (elementary education), Deborah Pens (psychology/English), Jeffrey Plumley (hearing and speech science), Kenneth Roberts (theatre), Roger Sadler (communication arts/English), Kevin Saylor (theatre), Theresa Siroky (English/journalism), Deborah Steislinger (nursing), Katharyn Worthington (hearing and speech science.)

CENTER FOR ART, MUSIC, THEATRE TO PRESENT 'DA'

The Center for Art, Music, and Theatre will present its first play of the season from October 14 through October 17. "Da" by Hugh Leonard is described as "a wonderful, witty, wise, and thoroughly beguiling comedy about a son's need to come to terms with his father and himself. It is also about paternity, adolescence, the varieties of familial love and the tricks and distortions of memory." Ken Roberts plays the title role of Da, with Richard Jarnecki starring as Charlie, Kaarina Brown as Mother, Kevin John Saylor as Young Charlie, Ed Smith as Oliver, Beth Slater as Mary Tate, Glenn Arnold as Mr. Drumm, and Jennifer Andersen as Mrs. Pryne. The play is directed by Marc Rubinstein. The play will be presented nightly at 8 p.m. from October 14-16 and at 2 p.m. on October 17 in the Hartman Theatre.

COLLEGE COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA SCHEDULES FIRST CONCERT OF SEASON

The College Community Orchestra has scheduled its first concert of the fall season for 8 p.m. on Tuesday, October 19 in Hawkins Hall Large Auditorium. The orchestra, under the direction of conductor William Phillips, will perform Rossini's "Overture to the Thieving Magpie," selections from Anton Buckner's "Fourth Symphony," and four pieces from Aaron Copland's "Rodeo," including "Hoedown," "Saturday Night Waltz," "Chorale Nocturne," and "Buckeroo Holiday." The concert is free and open to the public.

SIGMA XI OFFERS GRANT-IN-AID TO UNDERGRADUATES

Sigma Xi has announced a $50 research grant-in-aid to be awarded to an undergraduate student in the sciences or related field of study (anthropology, computer science, home economics, mathematics, nursing, and psychology) for use in the spring semester. Dr. Stallard Waterhouse, professor of biology, and secretary of Sigma Xi, said that the money is to be used for supplies and/or equipment and cannot support travel, library or secretarial services, or copying. The recipient will be required to give an oral report of the research results at the annual Sigma Xi Undergraduate-Graduate Research Mini-symposium in April.

Eligible students should submit their proposals to Waterhouse by November 15. The award announcement will be made during the second week of January.

FEINBERG LIBRARY PLANS SECOND ANNUAL BOOK SALE

The Second Annual Fabulous Feinberg Book Sale has been scheduled for noon to 5 p.m. on October 23, according to Cynthia Whitacre, who is chairing the book sale committee. Whitacre said, "We will have many items available in the areas of history, fiction and literature, biography and science, as well as miscellaneous items." She added that a large quantity of periodicals will be for sale at 10¢ each, and a wide selection of Tundra books will be available at greatly reduced prices. The sale will be held in the corridor outside the special collections area. Proceeds from the sale will benefit the collection development funds.

MATLOCK, STUART, BRASS QUINTET TO OFFER RECITAL OCTOBER 21.

The Champlain Chamber Music Series and the Center for Art, Music, and Theatre will present a recital by Herman Matlock on trumpet and Kathryn Stuart, pianist, at 8 p.m. on October 21 in the Hartman Theatre.

The program will begin with "Sonata for B Flat Trumpet and Piano," a contemporary composition by Brunet Tuthill. The College Community Orchestra Brass Quintet will follow, with the "Intermezzo" from "Music for Brass Instruments" by Ingolf Dahl, "Fugue IV" by Johann Bach and "The Canadian Brass Rag" by Edmund Rather. In addition to Matlock, members of the quintet are Jennifer Scriggens, French horn, David Friedman, trumpet, Dick Rabideau, trombone, and Bud Bentley, bass trombone.

"Fantasie et Variations" by Andre Warmser will begin the second half of the recital. Four movements of a six movement suite, "Toot Suite" will conclude the program. Stuart and Matlock will be joined in "Toot Suite" by Tim Paree on string bass and Randy Sutin on drums.

Admission is $3 for the general public and $2 for senior citizens. Students with ID and faculty members will be admitted free.

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN'S SOCCER TEAM RUNS SHUTOUT STRING TO 5

Donovan Scott and Jaime Parra scored three goals apiece as the Cardinal men's soccer team (7-3-1) drubbed Potsdam State (5-1) and Siena (4-1) to stay in contention for an NCAA post-season bid. The win over Siena came before an appreciative Homecoming crowd at the Field House. The Redbird women's soccer team ran its shutout string to five games, blanking RPI (2-0) and Siena (5-0). Plattsburgh State (6-1-1) has outscored opponents 18-3 and goalie Pam Black has six shutouts. Ordinarily, "the pack is back" is the operating slogan for men's cross country. But against Clarkson, it was "the long red line" that won as Card harriers finished seven abreast to shut out the Knights, 15-50. The women's running team lost to Middlebury but defeated Johnson State. Maureen McCoy again led the Plattsburgh State finishers. At the SUNYAC tennis championships, the Cardinal men's team finished fifth of nine schools. The doubles team of Sadik Sendich and Jon McAnney reached the semifinals. Women's tennis ended this weekend on a disappointing note. Losses to St. Lawrence and Siena brought the ladies' final record to 0-9. The volleyball team, spurred on by a vocal Homecoming turnout, defeated Siena in four sets. The serving of Michelle Miller, the spiking of Nancy Esposito and the setting of Olympia Clark paced the Redbird attack. Larry Barcomb's team is 3-2.

PHONOLOGY SEMINAR SCHEDULE FOR OCTOBER 22

Dr. Mary Louise Edwards will be the featured speaker at the seminar titled "Applications of Phonology: Assessment and Remediation" scheduled for October 22 in the College Center Ballroom. During the morning session, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Edwards will present an overview of phonology and will review and compare various assessment procedures. The afternoon session, from 1-4 p.m., will include discussion of therapy applications, with general suggestions for therapy and specific therapy techniques with a practicum.

Edwards is an assistant professor in the Department of Communicative Disorders at Syracuse University. She is well known as a researcher and lecturer in the area of phonological analysis and its management applications.

The seminar is co-sponsored by the Speech and Hearing Center and Eta Zeta. More information is available from the Speech and Hearing Center at 564-2170.

THIRD ANNUAL READING CONFERENCE TO CONSIDER CURRENT TRENDS

Plattsburgh's Third Annual Reading Conference, "Current Trends in Reading," scheduled for October 22, is designed for teachers, writing specialists, librarians, administrators, and students in the field of education. The conference will begin at 9 a.m. with a welcome by Dr. Michael Ritty, assistant professor of education, and a keynote address by Dr. Richard Allington, chairperson of the SUNY Albany reading department. In his lecture "Redesigning Remedial Instruction" Allington will present three techniques for improving reading fluency and comprehension. Concurrent sessions at 10:30 a.m. will feature Jacqueline Marino, an associate in the NYSED Bureau of English and Reading, speaking on "A Beginner's Guide to Reading Software," and Kristine Mulvihill, a secondary reading specialist at Northeastern Clinton Central School, discussing "A Holistic Approach to the Needs of Secondary Remedial Reading Students." Sessions scheduled for at 11:35 are "Introduction to the Junior Great Books Programs," by Sandra Lashua, a secondary English teacher at Plattsburgh Middle School, and "Pre-School Screening-Identifying Potential Failures" by Dr. Gary Brannigan, professor of psychology. At 2:30 p.m. Lynn Cordy, librarian at Peru Primary School, will discuss "Parents as Reading Partners" and Sandra Urbach, assistant professor of education, will speak on "Adapting Reading Materials for Students with Special Needs." The final session will feature Dr. Thomas Fitzgerald, supervisor, Basic Skills in the NYSED, speaking on "Administrators — The Challenge of Basic Skills." The seminar is co-sponsored by the Center for Teacher Education, the Champlain Valley Reading Council, the Division of Continuing Education, Phi Delta Kappa, and the Professional Studies Faculty. More information is available from the Division of Continuing Education at 564-2050.

FILM CLUB ANNOUNCES FALL SERIES

Repertory Cinema, formerly known as the Celluloid Underground, has announced its fall line-up of films. Spokesman Andy Bechard said the first film, "Rebel Without a Cause," will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. on October 15 in the College Center Ballroom. Admission is free to members and $1 for non-members.

Other films to be shown this fall will include "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" and "Metropolis"; silent movies made in Germany in the 1920s; the 1950s western classic, "High Noon," featuring Gary Cooper; and "Lolita."

New members from the campus and community are welcome and membership subscriptions (at a cost of $5) will be available at the October 15 showing. More information can be obtained from Repertory Cinema chairperson Liz Boolukos at 561-3709

BUSINESS/CORPORATE DRIVE AGAIN WINS SUNY AWARD

For the second consecutive year, the Plattsburgh College Foundation's Business/Corporate Giving Campaign has been selected to receive an "Outstanding Fund Raising Program Award" in competition sponsored by the SUNY Council for University Affairs and Development (CUAD). In citing the program, the Awards Committee noted specifically that it would not have qualified for recognition "under normal circumstances" since the campaign received an award in 1981. "However," wrote Committee Chairman John M. Carter, President of the University of Buffalo Foundation, "the economic climate of today is not hopefully 'normal' and in view of this factor, the success you achieved was extraordinary. We, therefore, cite the success of your campaign once again for 'Dramatic Improvement.'"

The award-winning campaign, a component of the Foundation's overall annual giving program, surpassed a goal of $65,000 in contributions in 1982. One hundred seventy businesses and corporations — including a record 64 new firms — contributed to the Foundation's scholarship fund. In 1981 the Business/Corporate campaign generated $49,600, meaning giving by the business community increased by 39 percent this year compared with last. The 1982 campaign was co-chaired by Harry Mowry, Barbara Murray, and Martin Mannix, Jr. All three are members of the College Foundation's Board of Directors. Mowry is also a member of the College Council.

The award will be presented at the Council's annual conference to be held in Corning on November 10-12. CUAD is composed of professional staff in public relations, alumni affairs and development on all 64 campuses in the SUNY system.

CAMPUS UNITED WAY GOAL SET AT $24,885; CLARA LAROSE NAMED CHAIRPERSON

The campus campaign for the 1983 United Way Fund Drive is now underway, under the chairmanship of Clara LaRose of the accounting office. LaRose said this week that the goal for faculty and staff has been set at $24,885, up from $24,000 last year. The goal for students is $2,780, down from last year's $3,327. LaRose said that last year's drive fell short of the goal by approximately $3,800 as about 57% of the college community participated in the campaign. She encouraged 100% participation on the part of faculty, staff and students this year, and urged everyone to give a "fair share."

Division chairpersons for the campaign have been selected and are as follows: Academic Affairs — H.Z. Liu; Arts and Science — Robert Moll, Al Hassler, Bob Donaldson, Ed Barton, and Robert Withington; Professional Studies — Jane Gore, J. Clark Mitchell, Lil Cassidy, and Anthony Ortolano; General Administration — Jan Edwards; Business Affairs — John Homburger; General Services — Mal Lavery; Student Services — Laura Dominy; Maintenance and Operations — Malcolm Collin; Maintenance and Operations Custodial — Gerald Dominy; Marriott — Marie Jock; Students — William Laundry, John Mockry, and Randy Prior; College Auxiliary Services — Stan Supinski; and Library — Robert Burton.

DR. MORESHWAR VANAMALI ON CAMPUS AS VISITING FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR

Dr. Moreswar Vanamali, principal (president) of Sheth Laherchand Uttamchand College of Arts and Sir Mathuradas Vissanji College of Science and Commerce in Bombay, India, is spending the fall semester in Plattsburgh as a Visiting Fulbright Scholar. Vanamali is presently lecturing and teaching mini-courses on comparative education and philosophy at Plattsburgh State. He will also lecture at Clinton Community College, North Country Community College, and Paul Smith's during his stay in the United States.

Vanamali spent three months in the country last year, also through a Fulbright program. He visited approximately 25 colleges and universities across the country, studying educational administration.

Vanamali serves on the governing councils of several educational institutions in India. He is also associate editor of the Marathi Encyclopaedia, a member of the State Board of Literature and Culture in the state of Maharashtra, and a member of the advisory panel of the Central Film Censor Board. Vanamali has published numerous articles on various subjects in philosophy.

FORENSIC TEAM TAKES SECOND PLACE IN OWN TOURNAMENT

The College's forensic team captured second place this weekend as it hosted the first tournament of the 1982-83 season. Teams from ten colleges entered the competition. Suffolk University, coached by Plattsburgh alumnus Ed Harris '74, took first place and the team from Emerson College was third.

Roger Sadler led the Plattsburgh team, capturing the pentathlon title and taking first place in three events, along with one second place, one third place, and three fourth place finishes. Tracy O'Brien was the other team winner, taking first place in persuasive speaking. Linda Suchow, Gregg Purello, Eileen Howard, and Vickie Wellington also were finalists in various events. Wellington, competing in her first tournament, was named "Most Promising Newcomer in Individual Events."

On the debate side, the team of Purello and Deborah Angus was second in the affirmative team competition. Purello and Angus joined with Julie Toth and Joe Murphy to take fifth in the four-person team.

The forensic team is coached by Al Montanaro and Justin Gustainis. They will travel to Boston next weekend to compete in the Suffolk University tournament.

FIVE FROM COLLEGE APPEAR IN WHO'S WHO

The 1982-83 edition of "Who's Who in America" lists biographical references on five Plattsburgh State men. Dr. Joseph Burke, president of the College, leads the list. George Abbe, professor emeritus of English; Dr. John Goldthwait, professor of philosophy; Dr. Kenneth Hoeltzel, professor of counseling in the Center for Human Services; and Dr. Richard Sudds, Jr., professor of biology, are also listed. Hoeltzel is listed for the first time this year, while the other four have appeared in earlier editions.

Morris Wattenberg, public relations manager for Marquis Who's Who, Inc., the Chicago firm publishing the book since 1899, explained the selection process in a recent newspaper article. He said the staff of the firm selects names of possible candidates from newspapers, professional journals and other sources, then sends them forms and invitations to submit complete biographical and career information. After evaluation of the data, the list is again reviewed and final selections are made.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION TO HONOR ROCKWELL KENT

Rockwell Kent would have been 100 years old this year. During the next week, several events will be held as a centennial celebration.

Headlining the celebration is Dan Burne Jones, who is considered the preeminent Kent scholar in America. Jones, a personal friend of the artist, is a long-time collector of his works. He is the author of the definitive work, The Prints of Rockwell Kent, which was published in 1975. On Sunday, October 24, at 2:30 p.m. Jones will be the principal speaker at a memorial program in the Blue Room. Kathryn Stuart, Bruce Butterfield and Robin Cameron will present a musical program following his speech. Jones will also give a slide lecture, "Rockwell Kent, Artist and Bookman" at Tuesday Reflections, scheduled for 4:30 p.m. on October 26.

A special exhibition of Kent's drawings have been borrowed from collections across the country and will open on Saturday, October 23 in the Kent Gallery. The exhibition will run through December 17. Running concurrently will be a special display of Kent material in the library reference room and special collections area. Also on Saturday, the film "This is My Own: R. Kent Collection," produced by Herbert McCoy will be shown at 1 and 3 p.m. in CL 206.

On Sunday, special "Children's Hours" will take place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Gallery. The gallery docents have organized a treasure hunt, story hour, brown paper mural and slide show. At 1 p.m. the winners of an essay contest on "What 'Wake Up America' Means to Me" will be announced. At 4 p.m., a birthday party will be held in the Kent Gallery with a special cake by Jerry Rambach. All of the Centennial Celebration events are free and open to the public.

SUNY ART CHAIRPERSONS MEET ON CAMPUS

The College hosted a meeting of the SUNY Council of Art Department Chairpersons last week at the Valcour Conference Center. This group meets twice a year at various SUNY colleges to discuss issues of common concern. Attending the meetings were representatives from Albany, Binghamton, Brockport, Buffalo, Cortland, Empire State College, Fredonia, Geneseo, Oneonta, Oswego, Potsdam and Plattsburgh.

The sessions featured talks by Ed Brohel, President of the SUNY Gallery Directors and Patty Kerr-Ross, Director of the University-wide Programs in the Arts at SUNY Central. The group also previewed "Cadmium Yellow," a film about the Studio Semester in New York.

The chairpersons presented reports on recent activities of the Art Departments on the campuses, and discussed enrollment, curricular programs, facilities, and current fiscal problems as they affect the visual arts. The group attended a reception given by Vice President Jerome Supple and met with members of the PSUC Art Program Faculty. The meeting concluded with a tour of the studios in Myers Fine Arts Building, and the Myers and Rockwell Kent Galleries.

DOT PAVES PARKING LOTS

The New York State Department of Transportation is paving several areas on campus this week. The Kehoe lot, the Yokum lot, and the roadways around the administration building are expected to be completely re-paved by the end of the week. Derek Allan, Facilities Director, said that DOT is providing the labor and equipment for the job and the College is providing the material. He estimated the cost of the project to be approximately $20,000 and explained that the money had been provided through the SUNY capital rehabilitation fund appropriated by the legislature this fiscal year.

Allan also said he regretted the inconvenience caused to faculty, staff and off-campus students, but explained that the job was scheduled according to when the DOT equipment was available.

CONTINUING EDUCATION DIVISION CO-SPONSORING COGNITIVE THERAPY WORKSHOP

The Division of Continuing Education is co-sponsoring, with Clinton Community College and the Mental Health Association, a workshop entitled "Cognitive Therapy in the Treatment of Depression," on Friday, October 22 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Holiday Inn. Chief presenter for the program is Dr. Raymond Harrison, Director of the Mood Clinic at the University of Pennsylvania. Harrison is currently on the faculty of the university and holds a staff psychologist position at a Philadelphia hospital. He will discuss the history, basic principles and techniques of cognitive therapy. The workshop is designed for psychologists, physicians, counselors, social workers, nurses, educators, clergy and other helping professions. For more information, contact the Division on Continuing Education at 564-2050.

DEMONSTRATIONS SCHEDULED FOR LIBRARY'S UPCOMING COMPUTER SEARCH SERVICE

Feinberg Library will begin offering online bibliographic search services through the DIALOG system in the spring semester. In order to acquaint faculty and staff with the capabilities of online searching, a series of demonstrations has been scheduled. Academic departments will be contacted by their liaison librarian to arrange for a demonstration which can be scheduled between November 1 and December 3. For other college staff members and faculty members unable to attend the demonstration scheduled for their department, a regular Friday afternoon session will be held each week at 3:00 p.m. in the Reference Room beginning October 29 and ending December 10. Contact Lynne King, ext. 3180, for further information.

SPORTS UPDATE; MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY TEAM TAKES SECOND IN SUNYAC CHAMPIONSHIP

The men's soccer team improved its chances for a post-season tournament invitation by defeating St. Lawrence (2-1) and Potsdam State (3-0). The Cardinal booters (9-3-1), spurred by the play of Jaime Parra, have won four straight. Plattsburgh State's women's soccer team also took two contests, beating Castleton State (1-0) and Skidmore (2-1). The Lady Redbirds (8-1-1) have won seven in a row and hope to make it eight Friday against Albany in an important home game. Powerful Fredonia State barely survived a scare from the Cardinal men's cross country team at the SUNYAC championships. Dave Champagne, Bob Brenner and Dean Diltz led an intense squad to a second-place finish in the 11-team field. The harriers, who ran sixth last year, were only six points behind Fredonia. PSUC's women racers failed to defend their SUNY Invitational title, however, finishing third out of 10 teams. Maureen McCoy, Lisa Holck and Maria Mason were the top Card runners. The Plattsburgh State men's tennis team closed out its final week of competition with a loss to McGill and a victory over Siena. The netters finished with a 4-6 record. In a home triangular match, the volleyball Cardinals (4-3) beat Vermont but lost to St. Lawrence. At the Oneonta Invitational, the Redbirds placed fourth, beating Lehman, tying Russell Sage, and losing to Oneonta, LeMoyne and Binghamton. Andrea Benck, Nancy Esposito, Deanne Dunigan and Mary Harris starred for Plattsburgh State's spikers.

LAKE CHAMPLAIN BASIN ENVIRONMENTAL CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS AVAILABLE

Proceedings of the 1981 Eighth Annual Lake Champlain Basin Environmental Conference are now available, according to Dr. James Dawson, editor of the volume. The conference, titled "Hydro Power and Its Transmission in the Lake Champlain Basin," was held in June, 1981 at the Miner Center in Chazy. The Proceedings volume contains the revised text of 28 complete papers, together with the abstracts of nine papers, which were presented at the conference. The eight sessions were titled "Historical and Conservation Perspective," "Water Quality Issues," "Fisheries Issues," "Transmission Lines," "Utilization Alternatives," "Hydro Power in Slides," "Energy Management Issues," "Policy for Hydro Power Opportunities in the Lake Champlain Basin and the Resolution of Potential Conflicts Between the Legal Framework, Environmental Impacts, and Development Interests," "Economic and Environmental Feasibility," and "Case Studies in Hydro Power."

The volume may be obtained from the Director's Office, Miner Center, Chazy, N.Y. 12921. Its cost is $20 and checks should be made payable to Miner Center.

STOP SMOKING WITH A LITTLE HELP FROM YOUR FRIENDS

A six-day "Stop Smoking Clinic" will be held next week on campus, sponsored by Theta Kappa Beta fraternity in conjunction with the American Cancer Society. Russell Van Korb, who will be the group leader, said that the sessions will be held each evening from 7 to 9 p.m. from Sunday, October 24 through Friday, October 29, in meeting room 1 of the College Center. Participants should plan to attend each session, but make-up sessions can be arranged for those who have scheduling conflicts. Van Korb, who holds a master's degree in counseling, said the clinic is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served. Anyone interested in attending is asked to call the American Cancer Society Office at 563-4271 between 9:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. to register.

RECREATIONAL SKATING HOURS ANNOUNCED

The schedule for recreational skating at the Field House has been announced. Beginning on October 23, the rink will be available for public skating from 2 - 3:30 p.m. on Saturdays, and for use by PSUC faculty, staff and students on Sundays from 1:30 - 3 p.m. Beginning November 4, the public may skate each Thursday evening from 7:45 - 9 p.m. The fee for use of the ice rink is 50¢ for PSUC faculty, staff, and students, and $1 for the general public.

A free session will be available to faculty, staff, and students each Tuesday and Thursday from 12 - 1 p.m. beginning on October 26.

CORRECTION

The winning float in the Homecoming Parade was constructed jointly by Alpha Chi Rho fraternity and Theta Alpha Lambda sorority.

GILTZ, MOWRY HONORED FOR 'PHILANTHROPIC ENDEAVORS'

Giltz

Mowry

Two members of the Plattsburgh College Foundation's leadership team will be honored later this fall for "outstanding contributions to the philanthropic endeavors of the State University of New York."

E. Glenn Giltz, president of the Foundation for the past five years, and Harry Mowry, chairman of the organization's highly successful business/corporate giving campaign, have been cited as award recipients in the 1982 Awards program sponsored by SUNY's Council for University Affairs and Development (CUAD). Only six individuals nominated from among SUNY's 64 units were selected to receive this prestigious award this year.

The awards will be presented at the Council's annual assembly to be held in Corning on November 10-12. They were created to recognize individuals "who have demonstrated personal, professional, financial and moral support to the philanthropic endeavors of the University, and who have demonstrated overall support for public higher education in the State of New York."

CUAD is composed of professional staff in public relations, alumni affairs and development throughout the SUNY system and the University's Central Administration. Giltz, president of Northern Insuring Agency, Inc., of Plattsburgh, and Mowry, who is vice president of Harris Corp. Bindery Systems Division in Champlain, were nominated for the awards by Plattsburgh State's Office of College Relations.

Giltz was cited for providing "leadership and dedication . . . vital to the organization and ongoing reorganization of the Foundation." An early proponent of the initiative to implement a fund-raising program to benefit the College and its students, he has served since the early '70s in the forefront of the organization's hierarchy. He was vice president of the Foundation before becoming its president.

"His involvement in the Foundation and its programs," the nomination states, "has served to attract a strong, unified core of officers and directors and a loyal, active membership." The narrative acclaims his professional ingenuity as having "inspired revision of procedures in investments and financial aid." This is in reference to implementation of a system whereby investments are compounded daily instead of sporadically, and one whereby Foundation funding for financial aid is allocated annually instead of on a month-by-month basis (with the exception of emergency aid funding).

The nomination narrative points out further that during Giltz's term as president, Foundation income has nearly doubled, with annual giving alone burgeoning from just under $70,000 in 1976 to more than $130,000. It also recognizes his personal generosity in annual giving and, with his wife, Leah, in creating a substantial endowment fund with the Foundation.

Mowry was recognized for his "avid support, generous patronage and energetic leadership" in behalf of the College's philanthropic organization. In particular, he was nominated for his role as co-chair and chair, respectively, in each of the past two years' Business/Corporate Giving Campaigns, especially the 1982 drive, in which "all previous records were erased." During the Business/Corporate drive which ended this past summer, income totaled $67,000 (an increase of $14,000 in comparison with 1981's final tally) and an unprecedented 65 new firms contributed to the effort.

Mowry, whose personal gift to the Foundation is among the top five received annually from individuals, also has been influential in tripling his own corporation's gift to the Foundation in the past three years. In each of the past two years he has come forward to offer the use of his firm's telephones and facilities for the out-of-state calling phase of the Annual Alumni Fund student phonathon. In addition to his involvement with the Foundation, he has served as a member of the Plattsburgh College Council since 1980.

DR. PHILIP CUSICK IN RESIDENCE AS DISTINGUISHED VISITING PROFESSOR

The second in this year's series of Distinguished Visiting Professors is currently in residence on campus. Dr. Philip Cusick, professor of education at Michigan State University, will be at Plattsburgh through December 10.

Cusick is perhaps best known for his book, Inside High School: The Student's World, which was published in 1973 and is widely used as a text in secondary education courses. Another book, The Egalitarian School, is currently being published and is expected to be released in the early spring. Cusick has done considerable research on school desegregation and its effects. He has also published widely on other aspects of secondary education.

Cusick received a bachelor's degree from John Carroll University, and M.S. from Elmira College, and a Ph.D. in educational administration from Syracuse University. He is currently studying philosophy at Michigan State. He taught in the Elmira School system for several years before making the transition to college teaching. Before accepting a position at Michigan State in 1970, Cusick was a research assistant at Syracuse University, and an assistant professor at Colgate.

During his stay on campus, Cusick will lecture in various classes in the Center for Teacher Education. He will also be the featured speaker at two Professional Studies Colloquia and will deliver two lectures which will be open to the public.

108 FOREIGN STUDENTS FROM 30 COUNTRIES ON CAMPUS THIS FALL

Forty-two new undergraduates from foreign countries swelled the foreign student population on campus to 108 this semester, according to Jaimie Trautman, foreign student advisor. The 108 students represent 30 countries. The highest number, 11, come from Canada, with England and Nigeria, with 11 each, also well represented. Five students come from Jordan, and four each from China, Hong Kong, Kenya, and Lebanon. Other countries with from 1 to 3 students enrolled this fall are Cameroon, Cayman, W.I., Dominica, W.I., El Salvador, Germany, Ghana, Guyana, Holland, India, Iran, Ireland, Jamaica, Japan, Liberia, Malaysia, Mexico, Pakistan, Panama, Portugal, Sierra Leone, Taiwan, and Trinidad.

The largest number of foreign students are majoring in business (23), with nine each majoring in education and food and nutrition. Other popular majors are biology (7), computer science (7), and mass media (5).

FORENSIC TEAM SECOND IN SUFFOLK TOURNAMENT

Only three members of the college's forensic team entered the Suffolk University Tournament this weekend in Boston, but managed to accumulate enough points to bring home the second place trophy. The tournament, which attracted 60 speakers from 14 teams, was won by Emerson College.

Roger Sadler again led the Plattsburgh team, taking the pentathlon title, and earning two first places in individual events, three second places, and one fourth place. Linda Suchow and Tracy O'Brien also made finals and earned points toward the trophy.

The forensic team will compete this weekend at Penn State.

FOUNDATION'S FACULTY DRIVE CONTINUES ON CAMPUS

A drive to solicit gifts from faculty and staff to the Plattsburgh College Foundation's Annual Giving Program is currently in progress on campus.

The effort is part of the Foundation's efforts to raise $136,500 this year. Those donating can designate their gifts for one of four areas: (1) the student scholarship fund, (2) for library books and periodicals, (3) for student travel to national and international conferences, or (4) for student research projects. All gifts are tax deductible.

Drs. Marilyn Chase and Herman Doh, co-chairpersons of the drive, urge as many faculty and staff as possible to make a donation because, as they note, this has a positive effect on giving by friends in the community, alumni and businesses. To date, gifts from faculty and staff range from $10 to $100. "Every gift is important, regardless of size," note Chase and Doh. "The number of faculty and staff gifts is what counts," they added.

Checks should be made out to the Plattsburgh College Foundation and mailed to the College Relations Office, Kehoe 803.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION OFFICE OPEN; LORNA EARL NAMED ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

The Cooperative Education Office, under the direction of Dr. Ann Hasting and located on the tenth floor of the Kehoe Building (1011-2), is now open. Hasting has also announced the appointment of Lorna Earl as assistant program director. Earl, who holds a bachelor's degree in sociology and a master's degree in counseling from the college, was formerly the technical analyst for academic computing.

The Cooperative Education program is funded through a five-year $419,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Education. Hasting and Earl are presently in the process of developing the campus program. They expect to coordinate paid, unpaid and volunteer work experiences which will be available to PSUC students beginning in the spring, 1983 semester. Students interested in internship placements should call or visit the office.

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT FOR CHANCELLOR'S AWARDS

Nominations are currently being solicited from faculty, administrators, and professional staff members for candidates for the 1982-83 Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Teaching, Professional Service and Librarianship.

Nominees for Excellence in Teaching awards must regularly teach at least one-half of their assigned load at the undergraduate level. An individual must currently carry a full time teaching load and must have completed at least two academic years on this campus. Nominations should be submitted to the Faculty Nominating Committee, Excellence in Teaching Awards, Kehoe 314, and should address the criteria for selection, which include teaching techniques, scholarship and professional growth, services to students, academic standards and requirements, and evaluation and student performance.

Nominees for the Professional Service Awards must have completed one year of employment on the campus and must serve in a full-time position with more than 50% of the assignment in non-teaching, non-librarian services. Nominations should be submitted to Dr. Eldridge Roark, Vice President for Student Affairs, Kehoe 201.

Candidates for the Librarianship Award must be employed full-time as a professional librarian and have completed at least one academic year in this appointment. Nominations should be forwarded to Robert E. Burton, Feinberg Library.

CENTER FOR STUDY OF CANADA SCHEDULES FIELD TRIP TO QUEBEC CITY

The Center for the Study of Canada has announced its annual excursion to Quebec City has been scheduled for November 5 - 6. The trip is open to all Plattsburgh faculty, staff and students on a first come, first served basis. A bus will leave Plattsburgh for Canada at 8 a.m. November 5 and is expected to arrive in Quebec City at about 1 p.m. Participants will stay at the Hotel Concorde. They will be given extensive tourist brochures and an orientation session upon arrival, and many optional tours will be available. On the return trip on Saturday, the group will stop at the historic Auberge Handfield for a Quebecois dinner. The cost of the trip, payable in advance, is $75 per person, single occupancy; $55 per person, double occupancy; and $50 per person, triple occupancy. Most meals are not included. Reservations and/or information may be obtained at the Center for the Study of Canada at 133 Court Street.

BOOSTER CLUB MEMBERSHIP DRIVE UNDERWAY

The Cardinal Booster Club has reorganized this year and its annual membership drive is currently underway. In compliance with a National Collegiate Athletic Association ruling which forbids Division III schools to provide athletic scholarships, the Booster Club is shifting its emphasis. The Club now plans to aim its fund raising efforts toward assisting the intercollegiate athletic program directly. Several special events will be scheduled during the year, including a "Meet the Coaches Night" set for November 9, and an exhibition hockey game on January 3 between the Cardinals and the University of Calgary.

The 1982-83 executive board of the Booster Club is comprised of Bill Berman, Tom Light, Bob Wallett, Jim Cleveland, Andy West, Carl Brown, Tom Glasgow, Joyce Glasgow, Larry Jeffords, and Judy Marnes. Dr. Eldridge Roark, Dr. Ernie Rangazas, and Mal Lavery are ex officio members.

Membership in the Booster Club for the 1982-83 season is $25 and will entitle participants to half-price tickets to regular season hockey and basketball games. Checks should be made payable to the Plattsburgh College Foundation and membership cards may be obtained in the College Relations Office, Kehoe 803.

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN'S SOCCER TEAM CONTINUES WINNING WAYS

The Cardinal women's soccer team this week continued to dominate their opponents, beating highly-touted Albany State, 1-0, and then blanking Lyndon State, 2-0, for their ninth shutout of the season. The two wins bring the team's record to 10-1-1. The team will wrap up regular season play on Saturday, hosting Ithaca at the Field House at 1 p.m. and Coach Sue Viscomi expects to receive a bid to the NYSIAAW Championships next week.

The men's soccer team lost a tough game to Clarkson, 2-1 in overtime, but recovered to beat Union, 1-0. They'll try to bring their record to 10-5-1 on Saturday when they travel to Binghamton for the season finale. Although hopes for a bid to the NCAA tourney are dimming, Coach Uwe Meyer is still very optimistic about the possibility of an ECAC bid.

The men's cross country team took a close meet from Middlebury College 23-32, with a fine individual performance by Dave Champagne, who missed that college's course record by just four seconds. The women's cross country team was idle this week, but is gearing up for the NYSIAAW Championship this weekend.

The women's volleyball team brought their record to 5-5, beating Clarkson, but losing to Potsdam and St. John Fisher.

GET READY FOR ADVISEMENT

The advisement and course selection period for the spring semester will begin on Monday, November 1st and continue until Tuesday, November 16th, according to Thomas Corigliano, coordinator of academic advisement.

Corigliano said students should schedule early appointments with their advisors and do some planning (review of the Master Schedule) prior to their meeting. Those students with a G.P.A. less than 2.0 should ask their advisors about the academic probation guidelines.

Students may turn in completed registration cards beginning November 1st in the College Center Lobby. All registration cards MUST be turned in by Tuesday, November 16th. After all cards are collected, students will be registered by class priority. Students are urged to indicate alternate class sections, and to select alternate courses at the time they register.

Questions concerning advisement, or academic policies and procedures, can be directed to Corigliano, A-314, phone 2192. Questions regarding the registration process can be directed to Daui Woodin, Assistant Registrar, A-304, phone 2095.

GRADUATE RECORD EXAMINATION SCHEDULED FOR DECEMBER 11

The next national Graduate Record Examination (GRE) test date will be Saturday, December 11, 1982. This will be the first time that the GRE Aptitude (General) Test will be offered in New York State this year.

Advanced registration deadlines are November 5th, and November 16th (with a late fee). Students should note that "walk-in" registration has been discontinued in New York State. Further information and application forms are available from Thomas A. Corigliano, A-314.

LAG PAYROLL TO BEGIN AFFECTING STAFF THIS MONTH

Each of the 1982-85 contracts negotiated by the various unions representing campus employees contains a 'lag payroll' clause. That clause will begin to affect campus employees this month. For Civil Service Employee Association, Professional Employee Federation and Management-Confidential employees, the lag payroll will operate as follows: Beginning with the pay period ending November 17, each pay check will be delayed by one day for ten consecutive pay periods. This will result in the withholding of two weeks pay.

Council 82 members will have no delay in their pay checks, but will receive only 9½ days pay each pay period for twenty pay periods.

Although the contract with the United University Professions has not officially been approved, William Woltjen, assistant vice president for finance and management said the procedure for UUP members is expected to be somewhat different. Present indications are that UUP members will continue to receive regular paychecks on Wednesdays. On December 29, according to state estimates, the nine percent salary increase for 12-month employees from July 1 through that date will equal or exceed the normal two-week pay. Therefore, members will receive a check for the retroactive pay, while the regular pay check is withheld. For faculty members, the withholding action will occur some time in February.

The two weeks' pay which will be withheld will be repaid to employees when they leave the college's employ, at the rate which they are receiving at the time of termination.

1983-84 SUNY BUDGET HIKES OUT-OF-STATE TUITION, DORM RENT

The SUNY Board of Trustees has presented a 1.265 billion dollar budget request to the Executive Chamber. The budget asks for $991 million in state funds, with the university contributing $274.7 million from its income sources. The proposed budget, which will be incorporated in the overall state budget request and presented to the state legislature for consideration in January, contains an increase of $125.7 million, "just to maintain (SUNY's) current level of academic quality and student access," according to a press release from SUNY Central.

Although the budget does not presently contain a tuition increase for New York State residents, it does assume an increase in out-of-state tuition which would generate $10 million in additional income. Given the current number of out-of-state residents enrolled within the system, the increase would come to approximately $1,400. In addition, the trustees have adopted tougher residency requirements for in-state tuition benefits. Students will have to prove they have been a resident of the state for 12 months prior to qualifying for in-state tuition. Factors considered in this determination include where students reside, where they are employed, where their cars are registered, where they are registered to vote, whether they own real property in the state and whether they pay state taxes. In-state tuition is currently $1,050 for undergraduates and $1,750 for out-of-staters.

Plattsburgh currently has approximately 315 out-of-state students enrolled on the undergraduate level, and 36 as graduate students.

Also included in the budget is an $80 increase in "dormitory rates, or equivalent savings, to offset increased residence hall operating costs." The current room rent rate is $1,250.

QUARTERLY GRANT SUMMARY SHOWS SPENDING UP, BUT APPLICATIONS DOWN

A summary of grant activities on campus for the period of July 1 - September 30, prepared by Dr. Paul Roman, dean of graduate studies and research, indicates that total grant expenditures on campus were up, but the rate of grant applications declined considerably. Grant spending on campus for the period totalled $323,000, an increase of 15% over last year. That amount places Plattsburgh in second place among the SUNY colleges of arts and science, compared to a third place ranking last year. The indirect cost recovery is also up, and amounted to 15.2% or $32,000. Last year's rate of return was 10.9%. The college's relative standing in that category (third) was unchanged.

In the area of grant applications, the college has seen a considerable decline. Only three applications were filed during the quarter, down 28% from last year, and in this category, Plattsburgh slipped from fourth position to seventh. In addition, only two of these applications were new, as opposed to continuation requests and renewals, which placed the college ninth, compared with fifth last year.

NEW BOOK EDITED BY DR. NAOMI MCCORMICK

A new book, titled Changing Boundaries: Gender Roles and Sexual Behavior, co-edited by Dr. Naomi McCormick, associate professor of psychology, takes a new look at gender roles and how they affect sexual behavior in today's society. McCormick and her co-editor, Dr. Elizabeth Rice Allgeier of Bowling Green University, also contributed chapters to the book.

"Not everything has changed as much as people think," says McCormick about the thrust of the book. "Social change is a very slow process, and the roles of men and women have not changed as dramatically as one might think. However, there have been changes and this book discusses the implications of these changes for people."

The book, intended for use as a supplementary text or as a resource for professionals in the field, is divided into two parts. The first considers gender roles and sexuality in various life stages, while the second looks at contemporary issues such as sexual harassment in the workplace, homosexuality, rape and pornography.

McCormick, a member of the psychology department and director of the Psychological Services Clinic since 1980, received her B.A. in psychology from Roosevelt University, and her master's degree and doctorate from UCLA. She has published several articles and presented papers at various conferences on sexual behavior.

SHAW'S MISALLIANCE TO BE PRESENTED NOVEMBER 10 - 14

The Center for Art, Music and Theatre will present five performances of Bernard Shaw's comedy "Misalliance." The play is based on Shaw's famous advice for parents, "If you must hold yourself up to your children as an object lesson . . . hold yourself up as a warning and not as an example."

The cast of characters includes Roy Wise as Johnny Tarleton, Timothy Carosi as Bentley Summerhays, Tracy Platero as Hypatia, Mary Koniz as Mrs. Tarleton, Kevin Russell as Lord Summerhays, David Dubin as Mr. Tarleton, Chris Ambrosini as Joey Percival, Susan Monty as Lina Szczepanowska, and Bruce Armstrong as Gunner. The play takes place in Surrey, England during the first decade of the twentieth century.

Performances will be given in the Hartman Theatre nightly from November 10 - 13 at 8 p.m., and at 2 p.m. on November 14. Reservations may be made by calling the Box Office at 564-2283.

PSI CHI TO INDUCT NINETEEN NEW MEMBERS

The campus chapter of Psi Chi, the national honor society in psychology, will hold its fourteenth annual initiation ceremony on November 10, inducting 16 outstanding students in psychology and three faculty members. Membership in Psi Chi is granted to students who have taken 12 or more credit hours in psychology and have a 3.2 cumulative average in that subject, and who also have an overall GPA of at least 3.0.

The students and faculty members who will be inducted into Psi Chi are: Jennifer Anderson, Nancy Boylan, Dolores Corigliano, Bruce Duba, Catherine Fleischman, Dr. John Felty (associate member), Dr. Peter Hornby, Cheryl MacNeil, Eileen McHugh, Anne Manwell, Holly Merryman, Shryan Mullen, JoAnn Murphy, Annn O'Hanlon, Susan Peterson, Michele Ann Pacino, LeaAnne Stunkel, Dona Waszczak, and Dr. Paula Yellin (associate member).

SENIORS, FACULTY QUERIED ON COMMENCEMENT

The 1983 Commencement Committee is sending a questionnaire to all members of the Class of 1983 and the faculty, asking for opinions about a commencement speaker and the awarding of degrees. Seniors and faculty alike will be asked to state whether they prefer a nationally known commencement speaker, a distinguished student speaker, a distinguished faculty speaker or no commencement speaker. They are also encouraged to suggest possible speakers in each category.

In addition, seniors will be asked if they think each graduate's name should be called and whether each student should walk onto the stage during the commencement ceremony.

Members of this year's commencement committee include Don Garrant (chairman), Mark Christiansen, Dave Demeter, Stewart Denenberg, Scott DeSano, Jan Edwards, Allan Everest, Lauren Green, Heather Griffith, Cheryl Hogle, Billie Jackstadt, Don Keegan, Malcolm Lavery, Nicholas Mammano, Anna Nardelli, Randy Prior, Mary Redmond, Larry Shaffer, Sandy Slacer, and Suzanne Sokolowski. Anyone with suggestions regarding commencement activities is encouraged to contact one of the committee members.

HOME ECONOMICS HONORS SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS AND DONORS

Recipients of Home Economics scholarships and the donors of those scholarships were honored recently at a reception hosted by the members of the home economics faculty. Mr. Fred Merrihew, who has established an endowment fund to provide scholarship assistance to upperclass students majoring in home economics, food and nutrition, or child and family services, in honor of his daughter, Mrs. Vidvud Dikert, a 1949 PSUC graduate, received a plaque in gratitude for his generosity throughout the years. Dr. Marilyn Chase, acting director of the Center for Human Services, presented the plaque.

Other donors present were Betty Ashley, William Lundquist and Alice Bubbins. Scholarship recipients honored at the reception included Diane Smith, Darcey Lacey, Olympia Clark, Denise Carter, Beth Martin, David Cockram, Mary Jo Dickerson, Rose Copper, Cheryl Marceau, Susan Colello, Joann Kney, Kathy Wineiki, Sue Andrews and Cheryl Geer.

COLLEGE RELATIONS STAFF MEMBERS CITED FOR EXCELLENCE IN DESIGN AND WRITING

Sherwood Keyser, Dennis Doyle, and Carolee Smith have been cited for excellence in design and writing by the State University of New York Council for University Affairs and Development. Keyser, director of publications, won an award for his design of a four-color catalog for the Usable Art Exhibition, which opened on the Plattsburgh campus in March, traveled to the Queens Museum in Flushing, N.Y., and is now at the Brainard Art Gallery at SUC Potsdam. The exhibition will conclude in early 1983 with a two-month showing at the Danforth Museum in Framingham, Massachusetts.

Doyle, director of communications, and Smith, director of public information, were commended for excellence in news and feature writing. Their entry consisted of six feature articles which appeared in 1981-82 issues of Plattsburgh Today.

SPORTS UPDATE: CARDINAL HOCKEY SEASON KICKS OFF

Although the Cardinal hockey team opened its season with an 8-4 loss to Colgate, it gave evidence of potential power. Brent Bradley, Doug Smoke, Pierre Alain and Steve Plaskon scored the Redbird goals and Dan Bedard made 26 stops in goal. Both soccer teams lost Saturday, but are expecting favorable news about post-season playoff berths. Uwe Meyer's men closed out the regular season with a 3-1 loss to SUNYAC rival Binghamton State. Ted Sofianos scored the lone Card goal and freshman keeper Ed Taylor made his second start of the year. Plattsburgh State, 10-6-1, is awaiting news of an ECAC tournament bid. Sue Viscomi's team played well in a 2-0 loss to Ithaca, finishing the year at 10-2-1. The Lady Redbirds should be a high-seeded school in the state AIAW tournament. The volleyball team is 8-6 after beating Franklin Pierce and losing to St. Michael's Saturday. In cross country, the Cardinal women finished fifth out of 13 Division III schools in the state AIAW championships. Lisa Holck was the top performer, running 26th. Cortland State took the Division III title.

PEER RECRUITERS WANTED

The Admissions Office is currently looking for student volunteers to act as peer recruiters during the Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations. The students will represent Plattsburgh State at their area high schools and community colleges. Director David Truax explained that surveys completed by incoming students during orientation sessions indicate that current students are regarded as the best source of information about the college. The peer recruitment program offers prospective students the opportunity to become familiar with the college from a current student's viewpoint. Anyone interested in participating in the program must attend one of the two training sessions, which are scheduled for Wednesday, November 10 and Thursday, November 11, from 5 - 6 p.m. in the College Center Meeting Room 1.

COLLEGE NAMED TEST CENTER FOR NATIONAL TEACHER EXAMINATIONS

SUNY Plattsburgh has been named a test center for the National Teacher Examinations, and will administer those tests on April 30, 1983. The test series includes: "Core Battery" tests and 28 Specialty Area tests. The "Core Battery" includes: Communication Skills, General Knowledge, and Professional Knowledge. The Specialty Area tests (ranging from Art Education to Speech Pathology) measure understanding of the content and methods applicable to the separate subject areas.

For further information and applications, see Thomas A. Corigliano, Kehoe 314.

SOPHOMORES ENCOURAGED TO APPLY FOR TRUMAN SCHOLARSHIPS

Sophomores interested in a career in government may now apply for a Harry S. Truman Scholarship, according to Al Mihalek, campus coordinator. Mihalek explained that the scholarships are awarded to students who will be college juniors in the 1983-84 academic year, and who show potential for leadership. The award provides a maximum of $5,000 annually for up to four years of study. Students in all fields are encouraged to apply. Anyone interested is asked to contact Mihalek in Hudson Hall 101 (564-3150) by Wednesday, November 10.

EQUIPMENT REPLACEMENT FUNDS ALLOCATED TO CAMPUS

Over $400,000 has been allocated to the college from equipment replacement funds budgeted to SUNY for 1982-83. The Dormitory Authority has made $145,775 available for use in the local residence halls. Dr. Eldridge Roark, vice president for student affairs, said part of the money will be used to replace, on a systematic basis, furniture in individual rooms, while the rest will be spent to refurbish main lounges and some floor lounges. Roark said this program was begun several years ago through the Dormitory Authority because no money was being allocated through the state for replacement purposes. The program has made it possible, he said, to refurbish several of the older residence halls.

The remainder of the allocation, $259,700, is intended to be used for replacement of academic equipment. Dr. Jerome Supple, vice president for academic affairs, said that he was currently evaluating the list of needs submitted by academic programs and departments and will shortly allocate funds for those items deemed to be of the highest priority.

MARGARET SIBLEY RECOGNITION DAY TO BE HELD FRIDAY

A ceremony to honor Margaret Sibley, in whose honor Sibley Hall is named, and to rededicate that building, will be held on Friday, November 12 at 2 p.m. Sibley Hall, built in 1966, was named in honor of Miss Sibley, who taught kindergarten in the Campus School from 1932 until 1958. Upon her retirement, an editorial appeared in the Press Republican, which said, "Margaret Sibley is a fine example of the manner in which a teacher can render a significant service to society. (She) has won the respect and admiration of hundreds of people, and she has their deep gratitude for the service she has so capably rendered over these many years." Although she died in 1967, she has continued to support the education of students through a Foundation endowment fund which provides scholarships in her memory to students in early childhood education.

Sibley Hall, which formerly housed the Campus School and the Educational Research and Development Center, now is the location of the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, the Center for Human Services, and the Department of Hearing and Speech Science. The highlight of Friday's ceremony will be the unveiling of a portrait of Miss Sibley, which was painted by Vera Alabaster.

UUP CONTRACT RATIFIED BY OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

The contract between New York State and the United University Professions has officially been ratified. According to union spokesman Tom Corigliano, approximately 60 percent of the union's membership voted. The final vote was 5,920 in favor of the contract and 1,098 against it.

ALUMNI PHONOTHON CONTINUES, PLEDGES NOW TOTAL $20,505

The second annual alumni fund drive phonothon is continuing, and, after 15 nights of calling by student volunteers, 1,908 pledges have been received, totalling $20,505. Alumni Affairs Director Mal Lavery said this week that 79 percent of the alumni who have made pledges during this campaign have never before given to the alumni fund. He added that since increased participation by alumni is the primary goal of the phonothon, he considers it to be extremely successful. Last year, 1,167 alumni made pledges to the fund drive, and Lavery said that many of those had already contributed to this year's drive prior to the beginning of the phonothon.

In addition to the 79 percent increase to date in new donors, the $20,505 pledged so far is considerably above last year's level. Lavery said he expects the students will be making calls for about four more nights and added that he personally hoped to finish with at least 2,500 pledges.

The telephone calls have been made through the cooperation of WCFE-TV and the Harris Corporation, which have allowed the Alumni Association to use their telephone systems. Students participating in the telethon include Lillian Ahr, Angela Cacchione, Anita Cardinale, Robyn Courselle, Maureen Daly, Laura Dehler, Jim DeLuca, Scott DeSano, Barb Durham, Sue Faraci, Mary Lou Furnia, Kathy Garrant, Judy Giarrantano, Mary Ellen Gogneski. Heather Griffith, Helene Lantry, Christia McClean, Michelle Mateus, Nora O'Connell, Debbie Lowell, Sharon Purcell, Mary Redmond, Sharon Silkes, Terry Siroky, Annette Soprano, Steve Szalowski, Mary Thorp, Louise Weber, and Melanie Wheatley.

Between the two of them, Jim DeLuca and Scott DeSano have convinced 311 alumni to contribute to this year's alumni fund.

DEAF INFANT TUITION PROGRAM FUNDED BY STATE FOR FIRST TIME

The Deaf Infant Tuition Program (DITP) has been granted $8,019 by the State Education Department to fund its operation for the 1982-83 academic year. This is the first time money has been received from the state for this program. The budget will fund personal and non-personal services, including instructor salaries, supplies, travel, contractual services, equipment and staff benefits and/or fixed charges, according to Dr. Raymond Domenico, chairman of the hearing and speech science department.

In addition, the DITP also met all criteria necessary for approval as outlined in the Commissioner's Regulations for Education of Children with Handicapping Conditions. This approval is granted on an annual basis after a demonstration of program needs and activities.

The DITP is designed to meet the needs of severely hearing impaired children up to the age of three and their families. Services provided include language stimulation, auditory and speech training, hearing aid orientation, evaluation and parent counseling and training. The DITP presently has one child enrolled in the program, but with the new budget, will be able to provide services to up to three children. Families within Clinton, Essex, and Franklin counties may be eligible for the free program.

RALPH STEINER TO OPEN EXHIBITION OF HIS PHOTOGRAPHS

World-renowned photographer Ralph Steiner will be on campus next week for three days to open an exhibition of his photographs. During his stay here, the 83-year-old Steiner will also host a day-long workshop for selected photography students and will participate in a public dialogue with David Vestal, editor of "Camera Arts" and "Popular Photography."

The exhibition, titled "Ralph Steiner Photographs: An Affirmation — 100 Prints — 60 Years," will open on Sunday, November 14, in the Myers Gallery with a reception for the artist from 2 - 5 p.m. The selection of 100 of Steiner's still photographs represents a wide range of work, from vintage prints to recent images made around his home in Vermont, as well as on Monhegan Island, off the coast of Maine. The exhibition will continue through December 19.

Steiner's dialogue with Vestal will be held at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, November 16 in the Cardinal Lounge and is open to the public.

FOUNDATION ESTABLISHES PLANNED GIVING PROGRAM

The College Foundation Board of Directors, at its fall meeting, adopted guidelines formalizing a Planned Giving Program. The program, according to Executive Director Don Garrant, is aimed at increasing the Foundation's endowment program by encouraging donors to consider long-range giving, such as through bequests, insurance policies, or other deferred giving.

The Foundation has received contributions through these channels in the past, Garrant said. In fact, this year alone, over $150,000 in bequests has been added to the endowment fund, which currently stands at just over $600,000. However, with the formal adoption of guidelines, Garrant said, the Foundation will try to broaden the planned giving program. Covered under the new guidelines for the planned giving program are gifts of cash, securities, real and personal property; gifts of undivided interests; gifts of closely held stock; gifts of insurance policies; deferred payment gift annuities; and will provisions.

PERMANENT BEAUTIFICATION COMMITTEE NAMED

A permanent campus beautification committee has been named and plans to take up the reins of the 1981-82 ad hoc committee which prepared the recent campus beautification report. Committee chairman Derek Allan said the permanent committee will attempt to give some impetus and direction to the recommendations made in that report. He said the committee plans to have an organizational meeting in the near future. Members of the permanent committee include Dr. Donald Bogucki, Edward Brohel, Florence Callahan, Dr. Martha Frost, Dr. Ann Hasting, Paula Hays, William Laundry, Kevin Roberts, Michael Walsh, Daui Woodin, and students Kim Eldridge and Richard Pfadenhauer.

FIVE APPLY FOR FULBRIGHT GRANTS

Five students have applied for Fulbright grants for the 1983-84 academic year, according to Dr. H.Z. Liu, acting dean of arts and science and a member of the campus evaluation committee. Lynn Campbell, an elementary education major, applied to England to study the history of education and the British educational system. Janet Heller, who is majoring in environmental science and Latin American studies, applied to Colombia for graduate work in Latin American studies. Michael Herbs, a communications major, applied to the Netherlands to carry out a comparison study of television systems in the Netherlands and the United States. Helene Nessenthaler, an English major, applied to England to begin a long research project on literature dealing with the legends of Atlantis and King Arthur. Lois Valenti, a biology major, applied to England to continue advanced cell biology laboratory research.

Fulbright grants provide transportation, tuition, maintenance, books, etc. for study abroad for one academic year. Two years ago, Margarete Heck, a biology major, became the first Plattsburgh student to win a Fulbright grant.

Members of the campus evaluation committee include, in addition to Liu, Dr. Ross Papke, associate dean of professional studies, Dr. Jeanne Kissner, associate director of the Center for Study of Canada, Dr. Carl Englehart, professor of English and a former Fulbright scholar, Dr. David Mowry, associate professor of philosophy, and Al Mihalek, assistant to the dean of arts and science. Dr. Moreshwar Vanamali, visiting Fulbright Scholar, acted as an advisor to the committee.

GUIBBORY AND STUART TO PRESENT CONCERT NOVEMBER 18

Violinist Yenoin Guibbory and pianist Kathryn Stuart will present the fourth evening concert in this year's Champlain Chamber Music Series on Thursday, November 18 at 8 p.m. in Hartman Theatre. The program will feature sonatas by Bach, Beethoven and Ravel, and will conclude with showpieces by Paganini, Kreisler and Sarasate. The artists, together with cellist Robert Cancelosi, form the Champlain Trio, which recently returned from successful concert engagements in Indianapolis.

Tickets for the performance will be available at the Hartman Theatre Box Office (564-2293) from 1 to 4 p.m. on November 16 and 17, and from 1 to 8 p.m. on November 18. General admission is $3, $2 for senior citizens and non-PSUC students, and free to PSUC students, faculty and staff.

SPORTS UPDATE; SOCCER TEAMS END SEASON 2ND AND 3RD IN PLAYOFFS

Plattsburgh State soccer drew to an exciting close last weekend as the Cardinal men and women battled well but unsuccessfully for championship titles. The ECAC Upstate championship game was contested Sunday at the Field House with fourth-seed Alfred University edging Uwe Meyer's team, 2-1, in overtime. Plattsburgh State, seeded third in the four-team tournament, beat Clarkson, 2-0, to reach the final while Alfred dumped top-seed Fredonia in overtime, 2-1. John McDonagh figured in all three Cardinal tournament goals, scoring once in each game and assisting on Joe Aguirre's tally. John Sovay played well in both games and picked up his fifth shutout of the year against Clarkson. The tournament results gave the men booters a final record of 11-7-1. Although it had trouble with SUNYAC foes, Plattsburgh State scored impressive victories over McGill and St. Lawrence and enjoyed a Homecoming drubbing of Siena. The team did pick up one title, the Castleton tournament championship in September. Seniors John Sovay, Max Lapaix and John Rockett played well in the last games of their successful College careers.

The Lady Redbirds captured third place in the eight-team state AIAW championship tournament in Rochester. Seeded fifth, Sue Viscomi's team blanked Ithaca, 2-0, but then lost an evenly played match to first-seed Hartwick, 1-0. By beating number three seed Colgate, 2-1, in a sudden-death overtime shootout, the Cards won third place and brought back some well-deserved hardware. Keeper Pam Black was outstanding in the tournament, making many brilliant saves and notching her 10th season shutout. Mel Wisotzke scored two of the three Redbird goals with Allison Jenks also scoring against Ithaca and Ginny Carpenter accounting for the winner against Colgate. Mel Locke, Cindy Hansen and Carpenter picked up assists. Senior co-captains Black and Mary Lou Philbrook played their final games for Plattsburgh State. The Cardinal women, who finished fourth in the AIAW tournament last year, expect to move up from their current sixth position in the next Mid-Atlantic Women's Soccer Association poll due out this week. The team's 12-3-1 final record includes a shutout string of six games, decisions over St. Lawrence, Albany State, and Middlebury, and a well-played overtime loss to Vermont.

Plattsburgh State's volleyball team finished its season last weekend with a fourth place finish in the Potsdam State tournament. Toni Perrelli, Olympia Clark, Andrea Benck, Michelle Miller, Nancy Esposito, Heidi Reed and Sue Lomot played well for the Card spikers. Clark, Jennifer Kangas and Mary Schwartz, all seniors, finished their volleyball careers at Plattsburgh State. The team was 4-2 in dual matches, 4-4 in triangulars, and 3-6-1 in invitational play.

In cross country, the Plattsburgh State women placed third out of 20 schools in the eastern AIAW championships Saturday. Maureen McCoy and Lisa Holck were the Cards' best performers. The Redbird men, resting three of their top four for this Saturday's NCAA qualifier, still finished 11th out of 23 teams in the state Coaches Track and Field Association championships. Dean Diltz paced the Plattsburgh State seven.

Dave Robertson's women swimmers took a very respectable fifth in the 16-team Great Dane Relays at Albany State. Team-high seconds were recorded by the breaststroke team of Linda Miner, Beth Huntley and Lisa Maynard and the individual medley team of Barb Bonhotol, Nancy Sawyer, Maynard and Reene Courneene.

If its play against the Polish National Team is an indication of things to come, the men's basketball team will be pretty good. Paul Glodis, Bill Stevens, Jim Hogan and Jim Maniatis were outstanding in a 63-62 loss to the taller Polish squad. It was tough going for the Plattsburgh State icers, however. The skaters dropped games to Saskatchewan (5-0) and Concordia (9-4) in the International University Cup Tournament in Montreal.

STUDENTS FACE MORE DIFFICULT TIMES IN JOB HUNTING

The nation's economic difficulties are making job prospects slimmer for students about to graduate from college and enter the job market, according to Patrick Lennahan, Director of Career/Life Planning and Placement. A sign of the times, he said, is the decrease in the number of recruiters who are visiting campuses this fall. Here, for example, this semester only three companies have been on campus interviewing students for potential jobs. Last year at this time, there had already been about ten companies represented. Lennahan said recruiters have told him and placement personnel from other campuses that they are waiting to interview until they see an upturn in the country's economy. Many companies are not hiring at all, Lennahan said, citing IBM as one such company which presently has called a freeze on hiring. Others are hiring fewer new employees than normal, partly because so few people are leaving their jobs that entry level jobs are fewer and further between.

The competition for jobs is becoming fierce according to Lennahan. Over 900,000 students will graduate from college this year, and all of them will be competing for entry level positions, he said. Students who have some work experience, either through internships or through part-time or summer jobs will have an edge.

Lennahan and his staff are working to overcome these difficulties for Plattsburgh students. "We have added several new workshops for students," he explained, "to teach them skills that will help them land that first job." Added to the former workshops on resume writing and interviewing are new ones titled, Writing Letters of Application, Beginning the Job Search, Put Your Major to Work, Letters of Recommendation, and Considering Graduate School.

In addition, Lennahan said, his staff is encouraging students to do more research on potential employers and possible areas of employment. "We're telling them to target a geographical area, to target specific companies, and to target specific jobs within those companies," he said. "Students will have to sell themselves. The days of waiting for someone to come to campus and hire you are long gone."

UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY, PLEDGES STAND AT 19% OF GOAL

With only a few teams reporting, the 1982 campus United Way fund drive has reached 19.6% of its goal of $24,885, according to campus chairperson Clara LaRose. Teams making initial reports include Bob Moll's arts and science administration team, which reported in at 100.2% of its goal; John Homburger's business affairs team, now at 78.7%; and Laura Dominy's student services team and Jan Edwards' general administration team, both of which have reported 65.5% to date. LaRose encourages faculty and staff to return their pledge cards as soon as possible to their team captains and to consider using the payroll deduction system of pledging to the United Way.

Although no totals have been reported yet, students have also been actively raising money for the United Way. A campus-wide "50's Dance" and "Fashion Show" were held over the weekend, and each dormitory council is currently in the process of carrying out a fund-raising project. Projects include a rose sale, a penny drive, a swim-a-thon, a bowl-a-thon, an air guitar contest, a secret telegram service, a tuck-in service, a raffle, a kissing booth, a dine-a-date program, and two fast days.

FACULTY SENATE NAMES AD HOC COMMITTEES, APPROVES AWARD PROCEDURE

At its regular meeting on November 9, the Faculty Senate announced the appointment of members to three ad hoc committees, approved a minor in Language and Human Behavior and formulated a procedure for nominating candidates for Distinguished Teaching Professorships.

Named to the ad hoc committee on college missions and goals were: Dr. Herman Doh (chair), Patricia Bentley, Wayne Byrne, Dr. Stewart Denenberg, Dr. Prem Gandhi, Dr. John Goldthwait, Clara Johnson, Dr. Charles Kline, Dr. Houg Liu, Dr. Douglas Skopp, and David Truax.

Members of the ad hoc committee on the role of research at the college include: Dr. Ann Tracy (chair), Dr. David Bedworth, Dr. Thomas Braga, Dr. Roger Heintz, Dr. Dennis Kimmage, and Dr. Eleanor Stoller.

The ad hoc committee on improving teaching effectiveness will have the following members: Dr. Kenneth Hoeltzel (chair), Dr. Stuart Baum, Dr. Malcolm Fairweather, Dr. Martha Frost, Dr. Ralph Grover, and Dr. Marion Smith. One other member will be named.

The adopted procedure for nomination of candidates for Distinguished Teaching Professorships paves the way for the college to participate in the SUNY-wide awards program for the first time. The new procedure provides for the Standing Committee on Faculty Affairs to invite submissions of names of faculty to be considered as candidates. That committee will submit potential candidates to another committee, which will be comprised of five full-time teaching faculty selected by the Faculty Affairs Committee, and five undergraduate students, chosen by the Student Association. Nominations will be reviewed and a candidate chosen from this campus for submission to the Chancellor's Advisory Committee by February 1, 1983.

REDCAY ENDOWMENT FUND TO PROVIDE SCHOLARSHIP TO FRESHMAN HONOR STUDENT

Investment income from an endowment fund established by Dr. Edward Redcay, professor emeritus, and his late wife, Dr. Lillian Redcay, has been designated to provide an annual full tuition scholarship for an incoming freshman honor student. The recipient of the scholarship will be chosen by the college's Honors Committee and preference will be given to a student interested in psychology, sociology, anthropology, or behavioral science. Additional income from the fund has been designated by Redcay to provide recognition awards for undergraduates who have "demonstrated exceptional achievements in one or a combination of the behavioral disciplines." If additional income is available from the fund, research support will be provided to undergraduates, again for exceptional achievement.

Redcay, who has served the college since 1936 in many capacities, including professor of psychology, dean of the college, and acting president, has been a long-time supporter of the encouragement of excellence. President Burke, in announcing the plan for the income distribution, thanked Redcay on behalf of the students who will benefit from it, for "this tremendous contribution to the worthy goal of recognizing student excellence and achievement."

GRANT TO CANADIAN STUDIES PROGRAM FUNDS STATE-WIDE ESSAY CONTEST

The Center for the Study of Canada has received a grant from the Canadian Institute for International Affairs to fund an annual Canadian Studies essay contest for senior high school students in New York State. The contest is intended to arouse interest in the study of Canada, encourage students, teachers, parents and schools to participate in a Canada-oriented activity, to promote original and expository writing, and foster the ideals of global education and international understanding. Dr. Richard Beach, Director of the Center, explained that each public, private, and parochial high school within the state is being asked to participate. This year's topic is "Why Americans Should Know more About Canada and Her People."

The first prize winner, Beach said, will receive $500. Second prize is $250, and third prize is $100. Six essays receiving honorable mention will earn their authors $25 each. In addition, Beach said, the schools of the winners will receive matching grants for the purchase of books, supplies and materials to enhance the school's Canadian Studies program. The top three winners will receive their prizes at a special banquet given in their honor by the Canadian Institute for International Affairs to be held in New York City next June.

GEOGRAPHY CLASS PREPARES LAND USE MAP FOR CITY OF PLATTSBURGH

Seven students in an advanced geography course, taught by Dr. Bryan Higgins, assistant professor, have prepared a land use map of the city of Plattsburgh, the first one done since the 1960's.

Higgins said first the class discussed the basic classifications to be used, and agreed on high-density residential, low-density residential, commercial, industrial, and open space and park. Then the city was divided into seven segments and each student surveyed one segment, mapping exactly what occupied each lot. After the completion of the field survey, a total map was compiled. The final land use map will be presented to the city of Plattsburgh. Higgins estimated that the project saved the city between $2,000 and $3,000.

ALUMNI PHONOTHON WINS SUNY AWARD

Last year's initial phonothon sponsored by the Alumni Affairs office to raise money for student scholarships has won an award for excellence in alumni programming from the State University of New York Council for University Affairs and Development. The phonothon raised over $18,000 from 1,167 donors, many of whom were new contributors to the fund. The award was officially presented to Alumni Affairs Director Mal Lavery, who coordinated the phonothon, during the annual fall conference of SUNY/CUAD held last weekend in Corning.

As mentioned in previous issues of Weekly, other awards also were presented to the College by SUNY/CUAD for: Excellence in News and Feature Writing (for articles written by Dennis Doyle and Carolee Smith), External Publications (for an art catalog designed by Sherwood Keyser) and the College Foundation's 1982 Business/Corporate Campaign (which Don Garrant served as coordinator).

FINANCIAL AID OFFICE ANNOUNCES PELL GRANT INCREASES

The majority of students who are currently eligible for 1982-83 Pell Grants will receive increases in their fall and spring checks as a result of the passage of the Supplemental Appropriations Bill by the federal government. Semester increases will range between five and sixty dollars. Accounting Office personnel urge all Pell Grants recipients to stop in that office between Thanksgiving and Christmas to complete the paperwork which will permit release of the additional funds.

The Appropriations Bill also allocated funds for Veterans who were previously declared ineligible for Pell Grants. Veterans who are matriculated students should see a Financial Aid advisor for further details.

The deadline for the Financial Aid Off-Campus Resident Budget Surveys has been extended until November 22nd. Cooperation in answering and returning these surveys is of extreme importance as they will aid the Financial Aid staff in constructing student budgets.

FINANCIAL AID INFORMATION SESSIONS ANNOUNCED

Information sessions on the 1983-84 financial aid application process will be conducted in the dorms and College Center according to the following schedule: Adirondack Hall, Monday, December 6 at 10:30 p.m.; Banks Hall, Tuesday, November 30 at 10 p.m.; deFredenburgh Hall, Tuesday, November 30 at 10:15 p.m.; Hood Hall, Wednesday, December 1 at 9:30 p.m.; Harrington Hall, Tuesday, December 7 at 10:45 p.m.; Kent Hall, Monday, December 6 at 10:30 p.m.; Macdonough Hall, Monday, November 29 at 10:30 p.m.; Macomb Hall, Monday, December 6 at 10:30 p.m.; Mason Hall, Tuesday, November 30 at 10:15 p.m.; Moffitt Hall, Monday, November 29 at 10:15 p.m.; Whiteface Hall, Tuesday, December 7 at 10:15 p.m.; and Wilson Hall, Tuesday, December 7 at 10:30 p.m. A session for off-campus residents will be held in the Amnesty Room on Thursday, December 2 at 7 p.m.

COLLEGE COUNCIL MEETING SET FOR DECEMBER 2

The next regular meeting of the College Council will be held at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 2 in the Tenth Floor Boardroom of the Kehoe Building. Included on the agenda will be a report on the quality of campus life by William Laundry, Cheryl Hogle, and Jaimie Trautman. Dr. Miles Martin, Director of the Center for Business and Economics, will present a report on that center.

SPORTS UPDATE — SWIMMERS OPEN DUAL MEET SEASON WITH WIN

Plattsburgh-area swimmers contributed heavily to the season's first dual meeting victory for the Cardinal women swimmers, who defeated Russell Sage, 78-44. Reese Courneene of Plattsburgh broke college records in the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard backstroke. Lisa Maynard of Plattsburgh and Nancy Sawyer of Clinton were triple winners. The hockey Cardinals won the Battle of Lake Champlain, beating the University of Vermont, 4-3 in overtime. Pete DeArmas scored the winner against the Division I school and Steve Knish collected 43 saves in the Redbird skaters' first season win. Plattsburgh State (1-3-1) also won the Paul W. Calkins Memorial Cup by defeating Canton ATC, 7-6, also in overtime. Chip Grabowski won the contest with his second tally in the exhibition game. Dan Gardiner made his first appearance in the nets and made 21 stops. The cross country season ended a week too soon for the Cardinal harriers. Both the men's and women's squads failed to qualify for the Division III national championships as the men finished seventh out of 14 and the women were sixth of 11. Although they did not meet their season objective, the Redbird racers still enjoyed a good year. The men's team was 4-0 in dual meets, won the St. Michael's Invitational and finished second in the SUNYAC Championships. The Lady Redbirds were 3-2 in triangular meets and won the Card Classic and the St. Michael's Invitational.

Plattsburgh placed two players on the All-SUNYAC East soccer team. John McDonagh, a junior defenseman from London, England was named to the team for the third consecutive year. Donovan Scott, a freshman from the Bronx, was named to the team on offense. Scott is the only freshman on the team. Jaime Parra received honorable mention in the listing.

PICK UP SPRING BILLS NEXT WEEK

Spring 1983 bills will be available for pickup at the Bursar's Office on November 22 and 23. Those remaining on November 24 will be mailed to the student's home address of record.

December 30 is the deadline for payment. Students whose bills are not returned to the Bursar's Office as of that date will be removed from all courses and will be required to reregister according to the course adjustment schedule beginning on January 12.

Changes of mailing address and questions should be brought to the attention of the Bursar's Office as soon as possible.

CAMPUS PREPARES FOR CHANGE IN DRINKING AGE

Eighteen-year-old students who order a beer at 11:55 p.m. on Friday, December 3 will have to stop drinking it five minutes later when the new drinking age law goes into effect. The law, which raises the legal drinking age in New York State from 18 to 19, becomes effective at midnight December 4. Dr. Eldridge Roark, vice president for student affairs, William Laundry, director of campus life, and Peter Petrosian, Marriott manager, anticipate no problems on campus. "We have already revised some of our procedures in anticipation of the change," said Roark. The vice president explained that an I.D. check at the entrance of the Point went into effect at the beginning of the semester, in order to accustom students to the procedures. "I.D.'s are checked before anyone can enter the Point," he explained, "and anyone of legal drinking age gets his hand stamped. Only those with stamps can buy drinks."

In addition, Laundry said, a complete review has been conducted of the guidelines governing the serving of alcoholic beverages in both residence halls and in other college facilities. Further, the request form for holding an event during which alcoholic beverages will be served has been revised to make more explicit the elements of necessary control. "Rules and regulations have been in effect through the Board of Alcohol Review for some time," said Laundry, "and govern when, where, and under what circumstances alcohol may be served. We've always had to consider the under-age students."

Petrosian emphasized that Marriott's basic policy will be to strictly enforce I.D. checks. "We see no problem as long as we check I.D.'s and stamp hands of those entering the Point," he said. He added that there is already a monitoring system in place to ensure that only the amount of liquor approved will be available and only to approved guests at campus functions. Petrosian also commented that non-alcoholic beverages are always available at campus functions, and said that more events with no alcoholic beverages will be promoted.

UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN AT 50.6% OF GOAL; STUDENTS PLAN TALENT SHOW TO RAISE $$$

Contributions and pledges to the campus United Way campaign now stand at 50.6% of the goal, according to chairperson Clara LaRose. LaRose said $12,616 has been pledged or donated to the United Way, with many areas still unreported. Several teams have gone over 100% of their division goals, including Arts and Science (Bob Moll) — 100.2%; Student Services (Laura Dominy) — 137%; Marriott (Marie Jock) — 107%; General Administration (Jan Edwards) — 142.5%; and Business Affairs (John Homburger) — 145.3%.

Students are continuing various dorm projects to raise money for the United Way. A campus-wide talent show, "New Faces of '82," will highlight the student portion of the drive. Set for 8 p.m. on Thursday, December 9, the talent show will feature 18 acts, including a unique musical performance by two women performing in sign language, a dance by the Cardinalettes, and a gymnastics sequence by approximately 10 members of Acrotheatre. A number of vocal and instrumental solos and duets will also be on the program. In addition to raising money for the United Way, the performers will be competing for prizes, with first, second, and third prizes available in both musical and non-musical categories. Judges will include Dr. Joseph C. Burke, Dr. Charles Kline, Erwin Beyer, Elizabeth Pasti, William Laundry, Cheryl Hogle, and Melanie Wheatley. The talent show will be held in the Hawkins Hall Auditorium and will be open to the campus and public. All tickets are 50¢.

S.A. ELECTIONS SET FOR DECEMBER 7; FOUR VYING FOR PRESIDENCY

A four-man race for the presidency headlines this year's Student Association elections to be held Tuesday, December 7. The candidates for Executive Council officers are: President — Tom Swan, Gene Thomas, Chris Santa and Mel A. Penell; Executive Vice President — Russell Monaco and Scott Kane; Vice President for Finances — Kevin Jordan, Gene Connolly and Andrew Bechard; Vice President for Activities — David Brickman, Linda M. Blaize and John Jacon; Vice President for Student Services — William Kurtenbach; Vice President for Arts — Mary Koniz and Claude Heintz; and Vice President for Academics — Marty Blaha. Running for Student Assembly Delegate is Allison Slater. Candidates for Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals are David B. Torres, Kathy Omicinski and W. Michael Reickert and for Associate Justices of the same court are Susan Neyenhouse, Tracy L. Burrus and Brenda Geehrer. The candidates for the 15 Senate seats are Bill Davidson, Kathy Behan, David M. Pawlick, Daniel DeMonte, Carey Avenia, Stuart Williams, Marc Margolies, Marsha Brady, Lee Davidow, John C. Kershner, Tracy A. O'Brien, William Collins, Scott Nathanson, Clyde Thompson Jr., Kenny Price, Cleveland M. Taylor, John Winchester, Roger G. Desilets, Shellie H. Taylor, Bill Chauvin, Brian M. Dowling, George C. Tyndall, Theresa M. Siroky, Scott Lorence, Michael J. Meehan, Edward Engelbride, Jim DeLuca, Susan L. Coughlin, and Leslie Day.

NURSING GRADS DO WELL ON LICENSING EXAMINATION

The results of the licensing examination taken by nursing graduates last summer have been received, and 89.7% of the 68 Plattsburgh graduates who took the examination for the first time have passed. Dr. Lorraine Phillips, chairperson of the nursing department, said that the percentage of 1982 graduates passing the examination is approximately the same as it has been for the last few years, but is considerably above the norm for graduates of baccalaureate nursing programs within New York State, which, she said, stood at 81.8% this year. Of those Plattsburgh graduates who took the test in New York state, 92% passed.

Phillips said that this year's test was completely redesigned from previous years and concentrated heavily on nursing process and nursing intervention. The two-day test replaced the former five-part examination, which could be retaken in parts. The newer test, if failed, must be retaken completely. The test licenses nurses to practice within the state in which the test is taken.

PEER RECRUITMENT PROGRAM CONTINUES TO GROW

Approximately 85 students have volunteered and been trained this fall to serve as peer recruiters for the college's admissions office. Admissions Director David Truax said this number is up from 65 last year. Sue McGarrahan, a senior business and economics major who is interning in the admissions office and is in charge of the peer recruitment program, said that over the Thanksgiving vacation, the newly trained recruiters visited at least 14 high schools and talked with numerous high school students. She added that during the Christmas and semester recess, about 55-60 more schools will be visited for a total of about 70.

Truax commented that the program is a vital one to the college citing freshman surveys which indicate that one of the most influential factors in a student's decision to enroll at Plattsburgh is information from friends and acquaintances who are already here. "This program allows us to reach high school students that we would not normally reach on regular recruitment tours," he added, "and gives those students information from another student's point of view."

1983 ORIENTATION STAFF SELECTED

The Office of Campus Life has announced that nine students have been selected from a field of 55 candidates as new Student and Parent Orientation Leaders. New Parent Orientation Leaders are: Karoline Harrington, a junior Hearing and Speech Science major from Ballston Lake; Scott Kane, a junior Computer Science/Math major from Locke; Shellie Taylor, a sophomore Business Management major from Concord, Mass.; and Bruce D. Wharton, a junior English major from Albany. The new Student Orientation Leaders are: Robin Dembo, a junior Education major from Stony Brook; Kevin Jordan, a senior Accounting major from Canton; Susan Neyenhouse, a junior Speech and Hearing major from Peru; Bill Rushman, a sophomore Engineering major from Clarence, and Shelley Siek, a junior Accounting major from Schenectady. The five newly selected Student Leaders will join five veteran staff: Jim DeLuca, senior Business major from Shoreham; Catherine Fleischman, junior, Communication Arts/Psychology major from West Falls; Nora Manley, junior Computer Science major from Holland Patent; Terry Siroky, senior Journalism major from Tappan; and Gene Thomas, junior Communications Arts major from Candor, who is returning for the third summer. On site coordinator for the student program is Melanie Wheatley and for the parent program, David Conroe.

ANTHROPOLOGY PROFESSOR AND STUDENTS STUDYING MAYAN SKELETONS

Forty sixteenth century Mayan Indian skeletons are presently being studied in the college's anthropology laboratories, primarily by Dr. Mark Cohen, anthropology professor, and two students, Sharron Bennett and Kim Nichols. The three spent six weeks last summer in Belize (formerly known as British Honduras) on an excavation sponsored by Hamilton College and funded through the National Geographic Society. Travel expenses of the students were funded by the College Foundation. The skeletons date from the time of Spanish conquest of South America. According to Cohen, the Spaniards brought with them to the unexplored continent diseases the Maya had never experienced, such as malaria, smallpox, measles, mumps, and the common cold. Cohen, Bennett, Nichols, and several other students in the anthropology department are studying the whole and partial skeletons to discover the effects of these new diseases. Specifically, Bennett is looking at changes in the height of adults and how it relates to their health, while Nichols is working with x-rays of the bones to look for lines of "growth arrest" associated with childhood illness. Other students will be researching patterns of arthritis, dental enamel hypoplasias as a sign of illness, age and sex of individuals, comparative life expectancies of men and women and signs of chronic nutrient deficiency. The skeletons are officially on loan from the Belize government and eventually will be returned to that country.

Sharon Bennett (l.) and Kim Nichols work to reconstruct jaws from the Mayan skeletons.

JAZZ ENSEMBLE, COLLEGE CHORALE AND SYMPHONIC BAND TO PRESENT CONCERTS

The next week will be full of music as three of the college's musical groups present their annual winter concerts. The Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Herm Matlock, will lead off the week on December 2 in the College Center Ballrooms.

The College Chorale, conducted by Dr. Alan Frank, will present its Winter Holiday Concert on December 8 in the Hartman Theatre. Guest soloists will include Kathleen Aprill, soprano, Raney Ellis, tenor, and Ronald Wood, bass-baritone. The chorale will sing Schubert's "Mass in G, No. 2," three versions of "Ave Maria," and several Christmas selections.

On December 10, the Symphonic Band, under the baton of Dr. James Miller, will present its concert, also in the Hartman Theatre. The program by the 60-member ensemble will include classical selections by Edvard Grieg and Dimitri Shostakovich, popular pieces (Selections from "Rocky"), and Christmas music. Soloists will include Ted Pappas, clarinet; Jeff Woodruff, piano and Doug Zimmer, drums. All three concerts will begin at 8 p.m. and all three are free and open to the public.

CANADIAN SCIENTIST TO SPEAK ON ACID RAIN

Dr. George H. Tomlinson, senior scientific advisor to Domtar, one of Quebec's largest pulp and paper companies, will lecture on campus on Monday, December 6. Tomlinson has recently completed an extensive survey of forest lands in West Germany and Czechoslovakia. During his stay in Europe, he met with scientists, politicians, and forestry experts to study the effects of acid rain on soil and trees. His speech, "The Effects of Acid Deposition on the Forests of Europe and North America," will be given at 2 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge and is co-sponsored by the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, the Center for the Study of Canada, and the Miner Institute. Tomlinson's lecture is free and open to the campus and the public.

PEPSI CARDINAL HOCKEY CLASSIC OFFERS TOP-NOTCH COMPETITION THIS WEEKEND

Although this is its inaugural year, the Pepsi Cardinal Classic this weekend is already one of the most important tournaments in college hockey. Plattsburgh State, Lowell and Merrimack, three of the four finalists at the 1982 NCAA Division II championship tournament, and Concordia, the Quebec champion and Canadian national championship semifinalist, will be brought together for four impressive matchups. On Friday, December 3, Concordia will face Merrimack at 5:30 at the Field House. Plattsburgh State and Lowell, the teams that battled for last season's national title, will play in the 8:30 p.m. contest. On Saturday, December 4, the Friday losers will square off at 5:30 p.m., followed by the championship game at 8:30 p.m.

Ticket prices for each evening (to include both games) have been set at $3 for the general public, $2 for non-PSUC students, and $1 for PSUC students. Passes have been suspended for the tournament, except for PSUC student season passes, which will allow the holder to buy a ticket for 50¢.

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM UNDEFEATED

Despite key injuries to the Cardinal goaltending corps, Plattsburgh State compiled a 2-1 record against Division II opponents. The Redbird icers narrowly defeated Union, 5-4, and used a third period outburst to down a tough Brockport State squad, 5-2. Norwich handed the Cards a rare Field House loss, beating PSUC, 9-5. The Cardinals are now 3-4-1 overall. The men's basketball team dropped two of three contests but still look to have a good year. Oswego State downed the Card courtmen, 89-78, but the team bounced back against Norwich, beating the Cadets, 65-56. The Division I Catamounts of Vermont drubbed the Redbirds, 85-72. Jim Hogan, Jim Maniatis and Paul Glodis were the high scorers in the first three games. Phoebe Sturm's Lady Redbirds are undefeated, with an 88-47 shellacking of Lyndon State and a 58-51 victory over Norwich. Kathy Clarke and Anne Slattery were the respective high scorers. The Cardinal mermen finished a disappointing seventh out of nine teams at the Great Dane Relays and then were swamped by Vermont, 76-27. Karl Blomback, winner of the 50-yard freestyle, was the only victor against the Cats. The women's swim team also lost to Vermont, 100-40. Reene Courneene took the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard backstroke and Linda Miner captured the 100-yard backstroke.

FORENSIC TEAM TAKES FIFTH IN SOUTHERN CONNECTICUT COMPETITION

The college's forensic team took fifth place in the recent Southern Connecticut State College tournament recently, behind impressive performances in both individual events and debate competition. The 1982 national Champions, George Mason University (Virginia) won the tournament, and St. John's University took second. The field of 33 schools also included Rutgers, Brown, Columbia, Fordham, Army, NYU, Syracuse, Emerson, the University of Massachusetts, the University of Pennsylvania, and Occidental College of Los Angeles.

Leading the Plattsburgh team again was Roger Sadler, who won the epideictic speaking category and placed in the top five in four other individual events to take fifth in the Pentathlon competition, only three points out of first place. Linda Suchow, Vicki Wellington, and Lisa Olson also earned points for the team. The debate team of Debbie Angus and Greg Purrello put together a 4-2 win-loss record to finish second in novice competition. This was the team's last competition for the semester.

VICE PRESIDENT SEAWELL ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT

Bernard J. Seawell, vice president for finance and management at the College, and the business officer with the longest length of service in the SUNY system (28 years), has announced his retirement, effective January 1. Seawell has been on medical leave for the past several months.

Originally appointed to the college staff in October, 1955 to the position of business officer, Seawell later became assistant to the president, and in 1972, was designated vice president for finance and management by the SUNY Board of Trustees. He also serves as treasurer of the Plattsburgh College Foundation.

"We are losing a very valuable part of our administration," commented College President Joseph C. Burke. "Bud Seawell has helped to guide the college through a period of incredible growth and the more recent period of serious fiscal constraints without compromising our basic mission or our principles."

For the past several years, Seawell has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Eastern Association of College and University Business Officers. He was treasurer of that organization in 1981-82. He is also a past president and member of the executive committee of the SUNY Business Officers Association.

Before coming to Plattsburgh, Seawell served as business officer at the State University's Agricultural and Technical College at Canton from 1947 through 1954. He earned the bachelor of business administration degree from Clarkson College of Technology in 1947, and has taken graduate courses at Plattsburgh. During World War II, he was a member of the U.S. Air Corps.

Seawell is currently treasurer and a charter member of the Plattsburgh College Faculty Association, past president of College Auxiliary Services, Inc., and past chairman of the Fiscal Advisory Council of the SUNY Research Foundation.

The vice president has been active in many local organizations during his residence in Plattsburgh. He presently serves as chairman of the Advisory Board of the State Bank of Albany's Plattsburgh-Northway branches. He has previously held positions as chairman of the Plattsburgh Commission on Human Relations, past treasurer of the Clinton County Democratic Committee, a member of the Board of Directors of the Clinton-Essex Chapter of the American Red Cross and chairman of the local USO Operating Board of Directors.

Seawell and his wife, Charlotte, have three daughters and two grandchildren. They reside at 27 Morrison Avenue in Plattsburgh.

MORE THAN 300 TO RECEIVE DEGREES ON DECEMBER 17

More than 300 students will receive bachelor's or master's degrees or certificates of advanced study on December 17 at the annual winter commencement exercises in Hawkins Hall. In a departure from recent years, the December graduates will wear the traditional commencement garb of cap and gown. That preference was revealed in a survey of those who will receive degrees on that day.

College President Joseph C. Burke will preside at the exercises and will confer degrees. Burke will also deliver the commencement address. Following the 2 p.m. ceremony, Burke will host a reception for graduates and their guests in the College Center Blue Room.

JANUARY APPLICATION RATE EVEN WITH LAST YEAR'S, BUT DEPOSITS UP 40%

Applications for January admission are almost exactly the same as they were last year at the same time, but acceptances have increased slightly, and deposits are up 40%. Admissions Director David Truax said this week that, as of December 3, 725 applications had been received, compared to 721 on the same date last year. Of those applications, 67% were transfer students, 14% were readmits, and 18% were freshmen or foreign student applications. Truax said while there is no active recruitment process for January admissions, the college's goal is generally to admit the same number of students as December graduates. This year, over 300 students will graduate, and he anticipates about the same number will enroll. Truax added that applications are still being processed and will continue to be processed until the second semester begins.

Asked about the application rate for the fall, 1983 semester, Truax said, "It's too soon to tell," and added that applications traditionally begin arriving in large numbers about the first of December. Last week, he said, about 500 applications arrived, bringing the total to date to between 1,600 and 1,700. Truax said that the college can realistically expect fewer applications this year because of the large decline in the number of high school graduates. While statewide the number of graduates will drop 3.5%, Truax said, the decline in the 12 counties which produce 80% of Plattsburgh's students will approach 5%.

COLLEGE COUNCIL SUPPORTS RESOLUTION TO DE-REGULATE SUNY

At the December meeting of the College Council, members unanimously supported a resolution by the Association of Council Members and College Trustees of the State University of New York opposed to over-regulation of the SUNY system by the State of New York. The resolution requests the governor, leaders of the state legislature, and the comptroller to "study immediately the following four proposals: 1) ending of the unnecessary and archaic practice of pre-auditing; 2) institution of lump-sum budgeting on a trial basis; 3) processing of pay vouchers at the local campus to eliminate unnecessary duplication; 4) an agreement that SUNY budgets once approved by the legislature will be made available by the governor for expenditure; and implement such legislation and changes in administrative procedures, starting with the 1983-84 budget process."

In other action, the Council approved a list of "community members" to serve on the Plattsburgh College Foundation's general membership; appointed Council member Harry E. Mowry to represent the Council on the Foundation Board of Directors; and approved resolutions honoring three persons upon their retirement from office: Vice President for Finance and Management Bernard J. Seawell, SA President Randy Prior, and SUNY Trustee Vice-chairperson James Warren.

President Burke also addressed the Council on the status of enrollment and retention and reports were presented by Dr. Miles Martin on preliminary plans for the Center for Business and Economics, and by William Laundry, director of campus life on the topic, "The Quality of Campus Life." Assisting Laundry with his presentation were Cheryl Hogle and Jaimie Trautman.

The next Council meeting is Thursday, January 6 at 2:30 p.m. in the 10th floor Board Room of Kehoe. Chairperson Louis E. Wolfe notes that the Council meetings are open and invites members of the campus/community to attend.

NINE STUDENTS SELECTED FOR INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS HONOR SOCIETY

Nine Plattsburgh students have been selected for membership in the Alpha Sigma chapter of Omicron Delta Epsilon, the international honor society for economics. To be inducted in official ceremonies on December 9 are Michael V. Connolly, Frank M. Antalek, Michael Decker, Kenneth H. Earnest, Paul A. Meyer, Lawrence Otubu, David Norden, Jean E. Waters, and Robert R. Nowicki.

Dr. Peter Morici, associate director of the National Planning Association and a 1970 graduate of Plattsburgh State, will deliver the main address at the ceremony. Following graduation from PSUC, Morici earned his doctorate from the State University at Albany and was employed for some time in the U.S. Department of Energy.

Membership in the honor society is granted on the basis of academic excellence and recommendation by faculty. Students must have an overall GPA of 3.0 or better, must have taken at least four courses in economics and must have achieved a GPA in those courses of at least 3.0.

SENIOR NURSING STUDENT NAMED NURSE OF HOPE

Joanne Mulkerne, a senior nursing student from Delmar, has been named Clinton County and Northeastern New York "Nurse of Hope" by the American Cancer Society. In competition for the state "Nurse of Hope" title, Mulkerne was designated an alternate and awarded a $200 scholarship. As the area title holder, Mulkerne will serve on the American Cancer Society's public education and public information committees. She will also teach classes on cancer awareness and prevention as well as serve as a public relations representative for the society.

COLLEGE COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA TO PERFORM DECEMBER 12

The College Community Orchestra, conducted by William Phillips, will present its annual Christmas Concerts on Sunday, December 12 in Hawkins Hall. A "Lollipop Concert" will be given at 4 p.m., and musicians will be available after the concert to answer questions and demonstrate their instruments to interested children. The full concert will begin at 8 p.m. On the program this year are Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto #5," Borodin's "Polovetsian Dances from 'Prince Igor,'" "The Chrysanthemum" and "The Cascades" by Joplin-Schuller, and excerpts from "The Nutcracker," by Tchaikowsky. Both concerts are free and open to the public.

DR. NOEL SMITH TO LECTURE ON ICE AGE ART

Dr. Noel Smith, professor of psychology, will be the guest lecturer for the next SUNY/Plattsburgh Lecture Series presentation. Smith will speak on "A Psychological Analysis of Ice Age Art," at 7:30 p.m. on December 9, in Hudson Hall Room 106. According to Smith, "Paintings and engravings by Stone Age people from the caves of Spain and France have been variously analyzed as artistic expression, as hunting magic, and as other possibilities." Smith believes these explanations are faulty, however, and intends to present an analysis of their psychological and cultural meaning based on primitive psychological and anthropological concepts.

BOOSTER CLUB TO SPONSOR HOCKEY MATCH WITH CALGARY DINOSAURS

One of the top Canadian college hockey teams has agreed to an exhibition match with the Cardinals on January 3, to be sponsored by the Cardinal Booster Club. The Calgary Dinosaurs, last year's number two team in the Canadian Western University Athletic Association, will face off against Plattsburgh at 8 p.m. in the college field house. The Dinosaurs roster includes several players who also play in the Western Canada Hockey League, and a defenseman, Shane Pearsall, who was a member of the 1980 Canadian Olympic Hockey Team.

Tickets for the game are $2 for adults, $1 for non-PSUC students, and 50¢ for PSUC students. All passes are suspended for the exhibition match.

HONORS SCHOLARS PARTICIPATING IN ETHICS COURSE

The College's Foundation Scholars, SUNY Honors Scholars, and one Upward Bound student are participating this semester in a specially designed course in bioethics. Taught by Dr. Stuart Baum, professor of chemistry, the course focuses on case studies of such current issues as gene manipulation, aging, preselection of an infant's sex, artificial insemination, euthanasia, and the use of artificial organs. Baum explained that the course was an outgrowth of an informal discussion group, comprised of the original Foundation Scholars and several members of an honors committee, which met on a regular basis during the 1981-82 academic year. Baum, who had taught science and society courses to nursing students, volunteered to teach the new course, as part of an effort to offer a challenge to the honors scholars and to begin developing an on-going honors program. Other faculty members involved with the project have included Dr. David Mowry, Dr. Ann Tracy, Dr. Larry Shaffer, Dr. Annette Manganel, Dr. Carrie Harris, Dr. Hounq Liu, and David Truax, as well as Dr. Charles Warren, former dean of arts and science.

NOTICE TO FACULTY SENATE MEMBERS

Faculty Senate President Howard Miller has announced that the Senate will not meet in the month of December. In addition, the January meeting, normally held on the second Tuesday, will be rescheduled. Senators should watch for an announcement of the rescheduled meeting.

LOWELL TAKES HOME TROPHY IN PEPSI CARDINAL HOCKEY CLASSIC

The first annual Pepsi Cardinal Hockey Classic was more than entertaining even though the home team didn't win a game. The Cardinal icers played their hearts out in a 4-3 overtime loss to defending NCAA II champion Lowell in their semifinal contest. In the consolation game against Merrimack, the drain of the previous evening was evident as Plattsburgh State suffered a 7-3 letdown to the Indians. Concordia, which beat Merrimack 5-4 to reach the championship tilt, beat Lowell but not the referees. Officially, the title game was forfeited by the Stingers to Lowell, 1-0, but the Chiefs were outplayed on the ice and lost, 4-2. Keith Wright, defenseman and tri-captain, was the only Redbird selected to the all-tournament team. The other defenseman named was Paul Bedard of Concordia. All-tournament forwards were Mike Carr of Lowell, Randy Edmonds of Concordia, and Claude Lacombe of Merrimack. The honored goalie was Stephane Heon of Concordia. Bedard was named most valuable player. Leading scorers for the tournament were Lowell's Carr (two goals, three assists) and Merrimack's Steve Sheldon (one goal, four assists). Top scorers for Plattsburgh State were Steve Plaskon (one goal, two assists), John Swift (three assists), and Keith Wright and Pete DeArmas (two goals apiece).

SPORTS UPDATE; FOUR WOMEN'S SWIMMING RECORDS FALL

Cardinal women (2-1) broke four College swimming records en route to an 84-56 victory over St. Michael's. Lisa Maynard won the 50- and 100-yard freestyle events in record fashion and also took the 100-yard individual medley. Nancy Sawyer set a mark in the 50 backstroke and Reene Courneene broke her own standard in the 100 back. Kay Maloney scored wins in the 50 and 100 butterfly races. Plattsburgh State's men (1-1) completed the sweep of the Purple Knights but had to take the meet's last event to give itself a 60-53 win. The 400 free relay team of Andy Krochmal, Mark Beamish, Geoff Spear and Karl Blomback provided the margin of victory. The Redbirds captured all six freestyle events. Krochmal won the 500 and 1000 free while Blomback took the 50 and 100 and Spear won the 200 free. Tracy Burrus pumped in 18 points to lead the 3-0 Lady Redbirds to a 67-56 basketball victory over Norwich. It was Plattsburgh State's second triumph over the Cadets this season. With a little more luck and better foul shooting, the men's basketball team might have won a tournament this weekend. In the St. Michael's Doc Jacobs Basketball Classic, the Redbird roundballers took third place with a 63-61 win over the Division II host school. Earlier, the Cards dropped a 64-59 decision to tourney champ Merrimack another Division II school. Paul Glodis, who was named to the all-tournament team, scored 38 points in two games. The tourney split, along with the team's first SUNYAC loss to Albany State (87-67), puts the Card record at 2-4.

SUNY INTRODUCES 'PRISM': NEW PUBLIC TV SERIES

A spectrum of the lively arts offering a rainbow of sounds and images will be seen in the five-part series, "Prism: Facets of the Arts from State University of New York." The series will be aired on Sunday nights in January at 11:00 p.m. on WCFE, Channel 57, and several others of New York's public television stations. Produced by SUNY's Programs in the Arts, Patricia Kerr Ross, Director, the programs spotlight some of SUNY's most celebrated talents and the creativity of leading independent image-makers as they explore art, music, theatre, dance, poetry and the phenomenon of audio art.

The series includes: Re: Soundings (January 1), a lively and informative inquiry by Kit Fitzgerald and John Sanborn in the new field of audio art and the modern artists who use sound as an element in the creation of art; The Odyssey Tapes (January 8), a half-hour video portrait by Jill Godmilow and Susan Fanshel of famed balladeer Richard Dyer-Bennet as he embarks on a life-long dream of recording Homer's Odyssey as translated by Robert Fitzgerald; The Early Years (January 8), a half-hour video production which examines the historic beginnings and formative years of modern dance in the country from 1900 to 1930; Elliott Carter in Buffalo (January 15) which highlights the work of Elliott Carter, the American composer who has twice won the Pulitzer Prize, and his 1979 visit to the State University at Buffalo; Cadmium Yellow (January 22) which traces three young artists, enrolled in SUNY's Studio Semester in New York City Program, as they move through the double-edged work of New York City lofts and galleries; and A Conversation with John Cage, a half-hour videotaped interview with the avant garde composer, a man whose experimental approach to art has both delighted and infuriated his audiences.

SUNY's Programs in the Arts is an Albany-based office founded in the mid 1960s to encourage and develop the arts throughout the 64-campus system. The productions in PRISM were funded in part by grants from The Rockefeller Foundation, the National Endowment for the Arts, the National Endowment for the Humanities, and The Ford Foundation.

weekly notes

Dr. Mildred Dominy, professor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, was a presenter at the recent meeting of the Association of Mathematics Teachers of New York State. . . Jane Hamilton, assistant professor, Lendall Haskell, associate professor, Venita Hubbard, assistant professor, and Dr. Ralph Grover, professor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, recently conducted a workshop of formative evaluation of student teachers for the Northern Zone Block III cooperating supervisors. The workshop was designed to improve the supervisors' observation and recording skills and to train them in clinical supervising procedures. . . The proceedings of the Twelfth George H. Hudson Symposium have recently been published by Springer-Verlag, New York. The volume, which is entitled Advances in Non-commutative Ring Theory: Plattsburgh, 1981, contains 10 papers which were presented at the symposium in April, 1981. The conference, which attracted noted scholars from around the world, was organized by the Mathematics Department with support from the National Science Foundation and the papers were edited by Dr. Patrick Fleury with the assistance of Dr. John Riley, both professors of mathematics.
